Freeman Restores Official Demoted In Estes Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today that a department official demoted in connection with the Billie Sol Estes grain storage operations has been restored to his post.

The official is Carl J. Miller, a career employee of 25 years. He was reinstated as chief of the U.S. Warehouse Act branch of the department's marketing service. The post pays $13,250 a year.

Miller had approved bonds posted by Estes, Pecos, Tex., financier to protect the department against possible loss on surplus grains stored in his warehouses. The size of the bond—$700,000—had been criticized by some members of Congress as being insufficient and indicating favored treatment for Estes.

Freeman made his announcement in testimony prepared for a hearing of the Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee of the House, headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., which is investigating the Estes grain storage operations.

The reinstatement of Miller underscored the major theme of Freeman's statement—a contention that the Texas financier received no favored treatment from the department in the handling of grain. This testimony paralleled that offered before a Senate investigation subcommittee contending that Estes received no favored treatment in his controversial cotton allotment operations.

"The facts," Freeman said, "completely refute any charges that Estes received favoritism in the determination of the amount of his bond, and any further charges that the bonding policy changed when this administration came into office."

75,000 Ohioans Eligible for Call

State Reserve, Guard Numbers Are Listed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some 60,580 Army reservists and more than 14,000 Army national guardsmen in Ohio technically are eligible for active duty if President Kennedy is granted—and uses —his call-up authority.

Besides the Army units, there also are Navy and Marine Corps Reserve, Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve outfits across the state.

Ohioans not eligible for involuntary recall under the authority the President is asking of Congress are about 1,600 Air national guardsmen and 3,717 Army reservists and about 400 Army national guardsmen activated during the Berlin crisis last October.

A number of these men served overseas and most have returned to civilian life. They could volunteer for recall, however.

Probably most vulnerable, military officials say, are 15,954 Army reservists in Ohio's 221 paid units, and the 14,000 or so Army guardsmen, who also are paid for part-time soldiering. Some of the 15,954 were called up a year ago.

The Army can then turn to 27,643 Ohio ready reservists in a pool who do not attend training or get paid, and a standby reserve of 20,700 Ohioans.

Soblen Death Inquest Awaits Further Tests

LONDON (AP) — An inquest, convened today into the death of Dr. Robert A. Soblen, was adjourned until Oct. 4 after a pathologist testified he was unable to give the cause of the fugitive spy's death.

Dr. Donald Teare, who performed the post-mortem after the 61-year-old psychiatrist died Tuesday in Hillingdon Hospital, said: "I have a considerable amount of work to do yet."

Another witness at the brief session was Detective Supt. James Mackay of Scotland Yard, who said he is still making inquiries into the case.

Scotland Yard seeks to find how Soblen obtained the massive dose of barbiturates he gulped down a week ago to escape deportation to the United States to serve a life sentence for wartime spying for the Russians.

Soblen was taken to Hillingdon Hospital, where he died without ever coming out of his drug-induced coma.

Dr. C. B. Barnes, the physician who treated him, told newsmen Soblen died of exhaustion following convulsions that apparently were brought on by a brain hemorrhage.

One Scotland Yard official told newsmen charges probably will be brought soon.

The charge of abetting suicide under British law carries a maximum penalty of 14 years imprisonment.

RED-DY FOR CUBA? — This photo reportedly shows an array of military equipment on a dock in Leningrad, ready for shipment to Havana, Cuba. Included are jeeps, armored cars and crates of ammunition.

Findlay Printer Takes Wife On Surprise Trip to Europe

PARIS (AP) — Wallace Phillips didn't care today that thousands of strangers knew his secret. What mattered was that, for the few hours that counted, his wife of 20 years didn't know.

In Paris, a surprise wedding anniversary dinner tonight awaited 42-year-old Phyllis Phillips—who was led by turns to believe they'd share it in New York... then Reykjavik, Iceland... then Luxembourg.

Wallace Phillips, a printer for the Findlay, Ohio, Republican-Courier, likes to surprise his wife. He told her they would fly to New York for their anniversary, then quietly arranged an overseas trip.

The couple left their two children, Michael, 16, and Monday, 12, with relatives in Ohio and flew to New York Wednesday. At New York's Idlewild Airport Phillips told his wife he had decided instead to dine her in Reykjavik.

New York newsmen, in on his plans, cooperated in keeping his secret from Mrs. Phillips.

On the plane to Iceland, as they nibbled at a surprise anniversary cake, he would tell her they'd continue on to Luxembourg. Once there this afternoon, they would take a five-hour train ride to Paris.

In Paris they would have their anniversary dinner, and his wife would have a new dress, another surprise.

Phillips explained to newsmen how he arranged all details of the trip without causing her to suspect.

He got her to sign a passport under a pretext, got the identification photograph under the guise of a birthday gift for their daughter, and persuaded Phyllis to get inoculated because of smallpox scares in the news. He even took her to a neighboring town for a hairdo so there'd be no chance of beauty parlor gossips revealing his secret.

"She's been a darned good wife," said Phillips, "and she's always helped me out. I like to keep her more or less guessing. I think she enjoys things that way."

Reporters at Idlewild interviewed Mrs. Phillips separately, saying they wanted a story for the Republican-Courier. She said: "I like surprises. We both like the same things. He gets so much enjoyment out of it, so I don't ask him any questions. I think this is a good way to be in marriage. It works out for us."

All-Out Search Is Planned Saturday for Missing Man

Pickaway County Sheriff Walton Spangler has mapped plans to organize an intensive search for Henry Schwalbach Saturday in the vicinity of the Schwalbach residence.

The Walnut Twp. citizen has been missing from his home since July 8. He was last seen near his country home shooting birds.

Sheriff Spangler said today that persons interested in aiding the search may either contact the sheriff's Department or be at the Schwalbach home near the junction of the Red Bridge and the Circleville Groveport Roads at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Spangler noted that although the general area had been combed, the high growth of crops in surrounding fields made the search difficult.

DiSalle Claims Republicans Still Asleep

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—The Republican leadership of the Ohio Legislature "just can't seem to wake up to the fact that we are living in the decade of the 1960s," Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said here today.

In a speech prepared for a breakfast meeting during his campaign swing through Lake County, the governor said:

"The leaders of both the House and the Senate in recent days have cited what they obviously think are adequate increases in the state's share of public school and higher education costs."

"Both have appeared quite proud in their public utterances about a 32.5 per cent increase in public school funds in the last five years and have stressed the fact that school enrollment has increased only 21 per cent."

"Do they think the money increases and the percentage of enrollment figures should match? If they do, I suggest they should talk to some of Ohio's teachers who were vastly underpaid five years ago—and still are for that matter."

Kennedy To Speak Out On Cuban Arms Buildup

GOP Convention Backs Rhodes' Village Proposal

Candidate Promises More 'Bold Programs' To Keep Ohio Moving

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Governatorial candidate James A. Rhodes beamed today over Republican state convention endorsement of his programs to create jobs, build "Golden Age Villages" and help juvenile delinquents.

The state auditor hinted at more campaign proposals by asserting that the party platform provides "for the presentation of additional bold and imaginative programs to keep Ohio moving."

Convention delegates adopted the 1,500-word platform and heard state and national speakers lambaste Democrats at a one-day session Wednesday that filled most of the 3,000 seats in the RKO Palace theater.

"The principal issue in this election is whether Ohio will have a government which will encourage, promote and assist the economic growth of this state so that more jobs are available at good wages, or will have a government whose sole solution to public problems is to spend and spend and tax and tax," a section of the platform read.

National Republican Chairman William E. Miller of New York climaxed the speaking program by criticizing the Kennedy administration for what he called the administration's backing away from the Cuban situation to avoid "hurting the feelings of Latin American countries."

Sharing the speaking program with Miller were Rhodes and John Marshall Briley of Toledo, nominee for U.S. senator. Candidates for state offices, congressional and legislative seats and party leaders also appeared in the spotlight.

Rhodes said the platform, dealing in party policies and objectives rather than specific planks, provided a flexibility needed for Ohio progress.

"We must provide jobs through expansion of existing industry and location of new ones in Ohio," the former Columbus mayor said. "This is precisely why I have presented my program for a New Jobs and Industrial Development Authority."

GOP State Chairman Ray C. Bliss, who opened the convention, drew praise from Miller and others as the nation's greatest state chairman.

Willard W. Brown, candidate for mayor of Cleveland, presided as permanent chairman.

Others with major roles included John W. Bricker, former

House Okays Outlay for Military Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's the Senate's turn again on this year's military construction appropriations bill, now carrying $21,442,000 in proposed Ohio projects among $1,319,114,500 worth all told.

The House sent the compromise measure to the Senate by voice vote Wednesday, this time agreeing with earlier Senate action trimming the original House appropriation for Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, from $614,000 to $424,000. In the only other change from its original bill which affects Ohio, the House cut in half the Senate boost in original house appropriations for Columbus General Depot. It put the amount at $3,041,000 instead of the $2,991,000 initially approved by the House or the $3,091,000 recommended by the Senate.

Unchanged in the compromise bill, as the amounts were agreed on previously by both houses, are $1,500,000 for Heath Maintenance Annex, Air Force, Newark; $15,181,000 for Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, and $1,296,000 for Defense Electronic Supply Center, Dayton.

U.S. to Explore Radiation Belt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will launch a satellite this year to probe the man-made radiation belt resulting from a U.S. high altitude nuclear test.

The announcement Wednesday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said an Explorer series satellite will obtain information on possible effects of the radiation on future satellites and will give the world scientific community additional data on the artificial environments created by the new radiation belt.

The fact-finding satellite will be launched before the end of this year on an unusual elliptical orbit that will carry it between 170 and 10,350 miles from the earth, NASA said.

It is expected to orbit the earth once every five hours and will have a life expectancy of at least 60 days.

They say the belt extends from 200 miles above the earth to about 700 miles, merging with the lower reaches of the natural field of radiation encircling the earth known as the Van Allen Belt.

NASA has said the new belt, expected to die out eventually, will not menace astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., scheduled for a six-orbit flight around the earth Sept. 28. Project Mercury man-in-space missions have been carried out at altitudes of less than 200 miles.

GE Swings To Full 6-Day Work Schedule

The Circleville General Electric plant will move to a full six-day schedule on all three shifts this week.

The stepup will continue for at least two weeks in order to meet increased production demands. The announcement was made today by E. G. Grigg, plant manager.

Grigg said this six-day schedule is in addition to an increased rate of production which went into effect in June and a further increase in August.

A total of 65 employees was hired during these periods, bringing overall employment at GE to more than 700.

Fire Conceals Murder Of 10 at Japan Resort

LAKE YAMANAKA, Japan (AP)—Firemen found the bodies of 10 persons with crushed skulls today in the smoking ruins of a partly burned mountain villa at this famed vacation spot 100 miles from Tokyo.

Many foreigners vacation at Lake Yamanaka, but first reports said there was no indication that any foreigners were among the victims.

Iowa Blonde Reports Theft Of 7,200 Eggs in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Here's a story of a chick who lost 7,200 eggs.

The desk officer at a Manhattan police station perked up a bit Wednesday when a honey-haired blonde with sparkling blue eyes—trim even in dungarees and plaid blouse—strode in. He perked up even more when she told him: "I'm a truck driver. I just came into this town from Iowa and somebody hijacked a cargo of eggs off my truck."

The 5-foot-5, 115-pound beauty is a truck driver. She helps her dad drive a 50-foot, 15-ton refrigerated tractor trailer over the country carting fruit, vegetables and eggs.

Congressional Leaders Expect Major Statement

Republicans Demand More Vigorous Moves Against Red Regime

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was reported today to be planning a forthright statement at his news conference tonight on the Communist military buildup in Cuba.

Sen. Herbert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., gave newsmen this report after a morning White House meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with the President.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic floor leader, said he was sure Kennedy would have a great deal more to say about the Cuban situation at the news conference.

The congressional leaders said they had a lengthy discussion with the President on his request for standby authority to call 150,000 Reserves to active duty.

A resolution to grant this authority has run into Republican demands in the Senate for tougher and more specific action. Some of the GOP members want to put in amendments calling for strong action against Cuba or any other Communist moves.

Humphrey, assistant Democratic floor leader, said he hoped that the Senate would reject these Republican moves.

He asserted that Republicans were trying to make Cuba an issue in the current congressional election campaigns and termed this "mischievous and reckless."

He hinted that Democrats may offer a substitute for varied earlier GOP proposals.

In any event, Humphrey said the Senate plans to call up and pass the Reserves measure before it quits for the day.

Mansfield, in a separate interview, said he hoped Congress would come up finally with a bipartisan approach.

Skybolt Fails Third Launch

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force Skybolt air-launched ballistic missile failed today—the third time in as many launches. It was destroyed by the range safety officer after being dropped from beneath the wing of a B52 bomber.

Officials announced the Skybolt ignited successfully but then veered off course and had to be destroyed. The B52 was at an altitude of more than five miles and several miles off the Florida coast when it unleashed the missile.

Skybolt is intended to become the most mobile nuclear rocket in the free world arsenal. When operational, hopefully in about two years, the United States plans to mount four Skybolts on each of 300 B52 bombers, and Britain will employ two missiles on each of several Vulcan Mark II bombers. The missile will have a range of more than 1,000 miles.

Iowa Blonde Reports Theft Of 7,200 Eggs in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Here's a story of a chick who lost 7,200 eggs.

A detective accompanied Jerilyn outside the station house. There was a huge tractor-trailer. Jerilyn hopped behind the wheel and deftly backed the vehicle into a narrow space between two other large trailers in the Washington Market area. Her father stood by and beamed.

Said Jerilyn: "We take turns, Daddy and I, each driving four hours at a stretch."

Jerilyn is the youngest of five sisters—no brothers. She didn't argue when her father told newsmen: "She's smarter than most girls, except when it comes to boys. She's never had a date, never danced or went to a party."

Detectives are looking for Jerilyn's missing eggs.

The Circleville General Electric plant will move to a full six-day schedule on all three shifts this week.

The stepup will continue for at least two weeks in order to meet increased production demands. The announcement was made today by E. G. Grigg, plant manager.

Grigg said this six-day schedule is in addition to an increased rate of production which went into effect in June and a further increase in August.

A total of 65 employees was hired during these periods, bringing overall employment at GE to more than 700.

Fire Conceals Murder Of 10 at Japan Resort

LAKE YAMANAKA, Japan (AP)—Firemen found the bodies of 10 persons with crushed skulls today in the smoking ruins of a partly burned mountain villa at this famed vacation spot 100 miles from Tokyo.

One police official said the dead, all adults, appeared to have been victims of a mass slaying.

Many foreigners vacation at Lake Yamanaka, but first reports said there was no indication that any foreigners were among the victims.

Iowa Blonde Reports Theft Of 7,200 Eggs in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Here's a story of a chick who lost 7,200 eggs.

The desk officer at a Manhattan police station perked up a bit Wednesday when a honey-haired blonde with sparkling blue eyes—trim even in dungarees and plaid blouse—strode in. He perked up even more when she told him: "I'm a truck driver. I just came into this town from Iowa and somebody hijacked a cargo of eggs off my truck."

The 5-foot-5, 115-pound beauty is a truck driver. She helps her dad drive a 50-foot, 15-ton refrigerated tractor trailer over the country carting fruit, vegetables and eggs.

Jerilyn Chilcott, 20, from Auburn, Iowa, and her father, Mid Chilcott, came into town toting 600 cases of eggs. While they

Congressional Leaders Expect Major Statement

Republicans Demand More Vigorous Moves Against Red Regime

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was reported today to be planning a forthright statement at his news conference tonight on the Communist military buildup in Cuba.

Sen. Herbert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., gave newsmen this report after a morning White House meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with the President.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic floor leader, said he was sure Kennedy would have a great deal more to say about the Cuban situation at the news conference.

The congressional leaders said they had a lengthy discussion with the President on his request for standby authority to call 150,000 Reserves to active duty.

A resolution to grant this authority has run into Republican demands in the Senate for tougher and more specific action. Some of the GOP members want to put in amendments calling for strong action against Cuba or any other Communist moves.

Humphrey, assistant Democratic floor leader, said he hoped that the Senate would reject these Republican moves.

He asserted that Republicans were trying to make Cuba an issue in the current congressional election campaigns and termed this "mischievous and reckless."

He hinted that Democrats may offer a substitute for varied earlier GOP proposals.

In any event, Humphrey said the Senate plans to call up and pass the Reserves measure before it quits for the day.

Skybolt Fails Third Launch

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force Skybolt air-launched ballistic missile failed today—the third time in as many launches. It was destroyed by the range safety officer after being dropped from beneath the wing of a B52 bomber.

Officials announced the Skybolt ignited successfully but then veered off course and had to be destroyed. The B52 was at an altitude of more than five miles and several miles off the Florida coast when it unleashed the missile.

Skybolt is intended to become the most mobile nuclear rocket in the free world arsenal. When operational, hopefully in about two years, the United States plans to mount four Skybolts on each of 300 B52 bombers, and Britain will employ two missiles on each of several Vulcan Mark II bombers. The missile will have a range of more than 1,000 miles.

House Okays Outlay for Military Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's the Senate's turn again on this year's military construction appropriations bill, now carrying $21,442,000 in proposed Ohio projects among $1,319,114,500 worth all told.

The House sent the compromise measure to the Senate by voice vote Wednesday, this time agreeing with earlier Senate action trimming the original House appropriation for Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, from $614,000 to $424,000. In the only other change from its original bill which affects Ohio, the House cut in half the Senate boost in original house appropriations for Columbus General Depot. It put the $2,991,000 initially approved by the House or the $3,091,000 recommended by the Senate.

Unchanged in the compromise bill, as the amounts were agreed on previously by both houses, are $1,500,000 for Heath Maintenance Annex, Air Force, Newark; $15,181,000 for Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, and $1,296,000 for Defense Electronic Supply Center, Dayton.

Social Security Is Largest Check Writer

Paying social security benefits to 17 million people involves the Government's largest check-writing operation, according to E. H. Biedenholz, district manager, Chillicothe Social Security office.

"The department strives constantly to improve our check-writing and mailing procedures," Biedenholz said.

"But no matter how much we improve, no matter how modern our equipment is, we still need the cooperation of the beneficiary," he said. "Too often we get a phone call saying, 'My social security check didn't come today and I need it badly.'"

Biedenholz urged any social security beneficiary who plans to move to report his new address as soon as it is known. Changes reported early in the month usually will be shown on the next check. Otherwise the check will go to the old address and there may be a delay in forwarding.

Many social security checks are returned every month to the Treasury Department marked "Undeliverable" or "Moved — left no forwarding address". This happens when neither the post office nor the Social Security Administration has been notified of a new address. To be sure a check is not returned, beneficiaries should send a notice to both agencies.

To change an address on a social security check, write a brief message in a letter or on a post card and show your full name, the claim number, and new address. For protection, the Social Security Administration requires that changes of address be signed by the payee. The report should be mailed to the social security payment center, or to the district office, 32 W. Main St., Chillicothe.

Stock Market At Standstill

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices were at a virtual standstill early this afternoon with small gains equaling small declines. Volume was a bit higher than Wednesday but still light. Comparatively few changes amounted to as much as a full point among key issues. Even most of the usually volatile growth issues showed nothing more than fractional changes. The list was irregular at the opening and was stalled just about dead center all morning, temporarily halting a two-day advance that carried the popular market averages to their highest level of the month.

Muny Court Lists 3 Traffic Violators

The Circleville Municipal Court docket listed three motorists who were fined for traffic violations today. They were:

Terry L. Metty, 19, Ashville; $35 and costs for failure to have an assured cleared distance ahead.

Ronald M. Fenneken, 24, of 1310 S. Pickaway St.; $10 and costs for operating a motor vehicle with an illegal muffler bypass.

William D. Patton, 50, Columbus; $15 and costs for speeding 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Explosion Wounds Communist Officials

HONG KONG (AP) — At least two Communist officials were wounded in an explosion across the Chinese border Wednesday, reliable border sources reported today. Other bombs have exploded near the border in the past six weeks.

Some years ago, 20 or more wild cat wells were drilled for each one that hit oil. In salt dome areas, only six or seven are now drilled because of increased knowledge of how to strike oil.

NFO Members Urge Holding Action Here

Members of the Pickaway County Chapter of the National Farmers Organization this week urged to hold livestock and grain from the market.

The Pickaway Chapter, meeting at the County Fairgrounds, urged the hold as support for the NFO's national holding action now in progress. Members were requested to contact area farmers in behalf of the holding policy.

Meanwhile, area livestock and grain dealers have indicated no drastic change in their markets, although fluctuations have cropped up since the holding action was initiated. This corresponds with the present national market picture.

NFO officials here announced a 20-county meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. Sept. 15 at the Madison County Fairgrounds in London.

Another county meeting is scheduled tonight at Monroe Twp. School.

Wilmington Friends Think Missing Man Still Alive

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Is there a chance Harold Hartpence is still alive?

His friends and Wilmington business colleagues and especially his family think there might be. Hartpence was a Wilmington businessman, age 45, slightly graying, a hard worker, conscientious and efficient operator of an agency selling heavy road graders and other gear.

He has been missing since Aug. 31 when he flew his private plane into the north woods of Michigan along Lake Superior.

The Civil Air Patrol in Michigan sent up 200 aircraft in a search but had no luck.

A suitcase similar to the one taken by Hartpence was found washed ashore in the area over which the plane would have traveled, but there was no definite link.

His wife Jean, and his 15-year-old son, Don, said Hartpence was enroute to Ishpeming, Mich., for the wedding of his brother, Dale, where he was to be best man.

He took off from a small airport at Munising, Mich., late on the afternoon of Aug. 31, and that was the last report of him or the plane.

Hartpence had the plane only a short time and was still flying on a student's license.

The country in which he was last seen is remote. One highway runs through it. Lake Superior is on one side and the Hiawatha National Forest is on the other.

Strontium-87 Lollipops Fed To Children

BEXHILL, England (AP)—Dr. Michael Ash is handing out strontium-87 lollipops to his eight children.

He asserts they can combat radioactive fallout. The 44-year-old medical specialist says he thinks he has discovered a simple measure of protecting everybody in Britain.

The basis for immunization in the lollipops, he says, is seaweed and strontium rock which are found near Chipping Sodbury in the Cotswold hills. There, he says, Britain's leukemia rate is lowest.

David, the doctor's 14-year-old son, helps to make the lollipops. "I reckon we can produce them at 5 and 6 pence"—6 and 7 cents—each, he says.

Ash reported he has been "feeding" his family iodine extracted from the seaweed and the powdered strontium.

"Now we have complete immunity to radioactive strontium and radioactive iodine," he said.

Ash's theory is that the effect of radioactive materials can be nullified by a heavy intake of the same minerals in natural form.

"The body can only accept a certain amount of these minerals," he said.

Castro Jails 3 Newsmen

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro agents have imprisoned three Western newsmen and are trailing others, a Canadian reporter said upon arriving in the United States.

George Bryant of the Toronto Star said Western newsmen are unable to telephone outside the country due to strict censorship being enforced by the regime.

Bryant said the three correspondents, missing for three days, were jailed, although he did not see them. They are John Blands of Reuters, Paul Casanas of the New York Times and his wife, Sarita Valdes of the National Broadcasting Co.

Officers Comb Area for Stolen Ashville Auto

A 1959 blue Plymouth station wagon belonging to Arthur Deal Jr. of Ashville was stolen yesterday.

The car, parked in front of the Ashville Methodist Church, was taken about 8:30 p. m. Mrs. Deal had parked the car there and had entered the church.

A search of Ashville by Marshall Glenn Clay, Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff George Linder and members of the Ashville Volunteer Fire Department failed to bring recovery of the missing vehicle.

It was last seen by witnesses heading toward South Bloomfield. The persons who saw it assumed Deal was driving.

The station wagon was used by Deal as a business car. It was plainly marked on both sides and on the back with the name of his firm. The license number is 15 AD.

Three Firemen Become Pupils Of Their Trade

Three members of the Circleville Fire Department have become students of their trade this week.

The three are attending the Ohio State Fire School at Ohio State University. Participating are Lt. Fred Howell, Bernard Wolf and Glenn Jones.

The special school opened on Monday and will extend through Friday. The classes are being conducted on the OSU Campus, the Columbus Fire Academy and other designated areas.

Monday afternoon's session was highlighted by instruction on poison gases. Heading this phase was Fred Trager, senior research chemist for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's chemical division at Barberton.

TUESDAY'S scheduled included a tour of the Columbus Fire Academy and instruction on salvage work.

Classes Wednesday were on fire streams. A banquet was conducted last night in the East Ball Room of the Ohio Union.

Fire extinguishment and fire evolutions were on tap today. A morning class on fire extinguishers is due Friday.

Social Security Is Largest Check Writer

Paying social security benefits to 17 million people involves the Government's largest check-writing operation, according to E. H. Biedenholz, district manager, Chillicothe Social Security office.

"The department strives constantly to improve our check-writing and mailing procedures," Biedenholz said.

"But no matter how much we improve, no matter how modern our equipment is, we still need the cooperation of the beneficiary," he said. "Too often we get a phone call saying, 'My social security check didn't come today and I need it badly.'"

Biedenholz urged any social security beneficiary who plans to move to report his new address as soon as it is known. Changes reported early in the month usually will be shown on the next check. Otherwise the check will go to the old address and there may be a delay in forwarding.

Many social security checks are returned every month to the Treasury Department marked "Undeliverable" or "Moved" — left no forwarding address. This happens when neither the post office nor the Social Security Administration has been notified of a new address. To be sure a check is not returned, beneficiaries should send a notice to both agencies.

To change an address on a social security check, write a brief message in a letter or on a post card and show your full name, the claim number, and new address.

For protection, the Social Security Administration requires that changes of address be signed by the payee. The report should be mailed to the social security payment center, or to the district office, 32 W. Main St., Chillicothe.

Stock Market At Standstill

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices were at a virtual standstill early this afternoon with small gains equaling small declines. Volume was a bit higher than Wednesday but still light.

Comparatively few changes amounted to as much as a full point among key issues. Even most of the usually volatile growth issues showed nothing more than fractional changes. The list was irregular at the opening and was stalled just about dead center all morning, temporarily halting a two-day advance that carried the popular market averages to their highest level of the month.

Muny Court Lists 3 Traffic Violators

The Circleville Municipal Court docket listed three motorists who were fined for traffic violations today. They were:

Terry L. Metty, 19, Ashville; $35 and costs for failure to have an assured cleared distance ahead.

Ronald M. Fenneken, 24, of 1310 S. Pickaway St.; $10 and costs for operating a motor vehicle with an illegal muffler bypass.

William D. Patton, 50, Columbus; $15 and costs for speeding 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Explosion Wounds Communist Officials

HONG KONG (AP)—At least two Communist officials were wounded in an explosion across the Chinese border Wednesday, reliable border sources reported today. Other bombs have exploded near the border in the past six weeks.

Some years ago, 20 or more wild cat wells were drilled for each one that hit oil. In salt dome areas, only six or seven are now drilled because of increased knowledge of how to strike oil.

NFO Members Urge Holding Action Here

Members of the Pickaway County Chapter of the National Farmers Organization this week urged to hold livestock and grain from the market.

The Pickaway Chapter, meeting at the County Fairgrounds, urged the hold as support for the NFO's national holding action now in progress. Members were requested to contact area farmers in behalf of the holding policy.

Meanwhile, area livestock and grain dealers have indicated no drastic change in their markets, although fluctuations have cropped up since the holding action was initiated. This corresponds with the present national market picture.

NFO officials here announced a 20-county meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. Sept. 15 at the Madison County Fairgrounds in London.

Another county meeting is scheduled tonight at Monroe Twp. School.

His friends and Wilmington business colleagues and especially his family think there might be. Hartpence was a Wilmington businessman, age 45, slightly

Strontium-87 Lollipops Fed To Children

BEXHILL, England (AP)—Dr. Michael Ash is handing out strontium-87 lollipops to his eight children.

He asserts they can combat radioactive fallout. The 44-year-old medical specialist says he thinks he has discovered a simple measure of protecting everybody in Britain.

The basis for immunization in the lollipops, he says, is seaweed and strontium rock which are found near Chipping Sodbury in the Cotswold hills. There, he says, Britain's leukemia rate is lowest. Leukemia is cancer of the blood.

David, the doctor's 14-year-old son, helps to make the lollipops. "I reckon we can produce them at 5 and 6 pence"—6 and 7 cents—each, he says.

Ash reported he has been "feeding" his family iodine extracted from the seaweed and the powdered strontium.

"Now we have complete immunity to radioactive strontium and radioactive iodine," he said.

Ash's theory is that the effect of radioactive materials can be nullified by a heavy intake of the same minerals in natural form.

"The body can only accept a certain amount of these minerals," he said.

Castro Jails 3 Newsmen

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro agents have imprisoned three Western newsmen and are trailing others, a Canadian reporter said upon arriving in the United States.

George Bryant of the Toronto Star said Western newsmen are unable to telephone outside the country due to strict censorship being enforced by the regime.

Bryant said the three correspondents, missing for three days, were jailed, although he did not see them. They are John Blands of Reuters, Paul Casanas of the New York Times and his wife, Sarita Valdes of the National Broadcasting Co.

4 Persons Receive Hospital Treatment

A concrete block was the cause of injury for one person who received emergency treatment at Berger Hospital yesterday. A total of four persons were treated and released.

Harry Ramsey, 40, Route 2, received abrasions to his right foot when a cement block fell on him at work.

Freddie Wooten, 14, Route 4, suffered contusions when he caught his right foot in the wheel of a mangle spreader.

Wanda Woods, 14, Route 3, injured her elbow in a fall on her way home from school.

Gary George, 18, of 405 Northridge Road, rammed his left hand through a door glass when he fell.

graying, a hard worker, conscientious and efficient operator of an agency selling heavy road graders and other gear.

He has been missing since Aug. 31 when he flew his private plane into the north woods of Michigan along Lake Superior.

The Civil Air Patrol in Michigan sent up 200 aircraft in a search but had no luck.

A suitcase similar to the one taken by Hartpence was found washed ashore in the area over which the plane would have traveled, but there was no definite link.

His wife Jean, and his 15-year-old son, Don, said Hartpence was enroute to Ishpeming, Mich., for the wedding of his brother, Dale, where he was to be best man.

He took off from a small airport at Munising, Mich., late on the afternoon of Aug. 31, and that was the last report of him or the plane.

Hartpence had the plane only a short time and was still flying on a student's license.

The country in which he was last seen is remote. One highway runs through it. Lake Superior is on one side and the Hiawatha National Forest is on the other.

Officers Comb Area for Stolen Ashville Auto

A 1959 blue Plymouth station wagon belonging to Arthur Deal Jr. of Ashville was stolen yesterday.

The car, parked in front of the Ashville Methodist Church, was taken about 8:30 p. m. Mrs. Deal had parked the car there and had entered the church.

A search of Ashville by Marshall Glenn Clay, Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff George Linder and members of the Ashville Volunteer Fire Department failed to bring recovery of the missing vehicle.

It was last seen by witnesses heading toward South Bloomfield. The persons who saw it assumed Deal was driving.

The stationwagon was used by Deal as a business car. It was plainly marked on both sides and on the back with the name of his firm. The license number is 15 AD.

Senate Confirms NH Postmaster

The United States Senate has confirmed President Kennedy's nomination of William L. Friece to be postmaster of New Holland.

Friece has been acting in the capacity of postmaster pro tem until the recent confirmation by the Senate.

Meanwhile, the Senate has received from the President these other Ohio postmaster nominations:

Belmont, Joseph A. Tacosik; Bethel, James E. Myers, Chardon, Malcom M. Maynard; Fort Recovery, Richard L. Zehring; Harveysburg, Sue A. Carman; Lodi, Joseph Presznick; New Burlington, Davis A. Jasper, and West Milton, Harold G. White.

Three Firemen Become Pupils Of Their Trade

Three members of the Circleville Fire Department have become students of their trade this week.

The three are attending the Ohio State Fire School at Ohio State University. Participating are Lt. Fred Howell, Bernard Wolf and Glenn Jones.

The special school opened on Monday and will extend through Friday. The classes are being conducted on the OSU Campus, the Columbus Fire Academy and other designated areas.

Monday afternoon's session was highlighted by instruction on poison gases. Heading this phase was Fred Trager, senior research chemist for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's chemical division at Barberton.

TUESDAY'S scheduled included a tour of the Columbus Fire Academy and instruction on salvage work.

Classes Wednesday were on fire streams. A banquet was conducted last night in the East Ball Room of the Ohio Union.

Fire extinguishment and fire evolutions were on tap today. A morning class on fire extinguishers is due Friday.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.
Phone YU 3-6111

The newly organized Teay's Valley Marching Band, directed by Mrs. Mary Jo Gaskella, finds its schedule quite full of coming engagements already. Members participated this past Labor Day at Canal Winchester during the village's annual celebration. The band is also planning to appear at all football games, weather permitting. The band made its first Friday evening when Teay's Valley met Amanda - Salter Creek on the home field. It was hoped that the new uniforms would be ready for the first game but they have been delayed. It is hoped they will be here by the first of October.

Coming engagements include the Circleville Pumpkin Show in October and the Fireman's Parade in Laureville, September 22. The Teay's Valley Band Boosters are working hard trying to raise money for the final payments of new uniforms and needed equipment. It is hoped that $3500 can be raised to eliminate this debt. Presently the Boosters are selling picnic trays. They are the same trays that are used in the school cafeteria. The cost is $2.25 per tray and may be ordered by calling any of the band members or Miss Gaskella.

The next regular scheduled band booster meeting will have to be rescheduled due to a conflicting date with Walnut's PTA meeting. Notices will be sent home with students in advance of the meeting.

The Teay's Valley Reserve Football team met Hamilton Township on home field Monday evening at 4:30. Next Monday they will play a home game with Amanda at 4:30 p. m.

The TV Freshmen Football Team will play Hamilton Township Thursday, Sept. 20 on the Hamilton field at 6 p. m.

Coming scheduled events to be held in the new school is a dance on Saturday, Oct. 6, sponsored by the Athletic Booster Club. Toadie Reed will play.

On Saturday evening, Oct. 13 the Athletic Boosters will hold a Euchur Party in the school cafeteria, beginning 8 p. m.

The Past Chiefs Club of Ashville Pythian Sisters will meet at a new scheduled time for this month. They will meet Thursday, Sept. 20 for a 6:30 p. m. dinner in the lodge hall. The meeting was previously scheduled for September 27th.

A holiday will be observed this Friday by all school students in the state so that the teachers may attend the State Teachers Meeting in Columbus.

The Ashville Neighborhood Girl Scout Association will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 at the Ashville Methodist Church. All members are asked to be present for this important meeting.

The Pythian Sisters of the Ashville Temple met in the KP Hall September 4 with Most Excellent Chief Mona Morrison presiding during the business meeting. Plans were completed for a Degree Staff of 20 members to attend the Grand Temple Convention in Toledo Sept. 26-29. The staff will serve as escorts and a court of honor during the session. Grand Chief Francile Peters will preside during the convention. Also attending will be District Deputy Eveline Zwayner and Caroline Pritchard as delegate from the Ashville Temple. Mona Morrison will be the soloist for the opening session. She will be accompanied by Carolyn Peters as organist.

Tentative plans were discussed for the Pythian Sister District Convention to be held in the Ashville Elementary School Building Saturday, October 6. District Deputy Zwayner will be in charge of the convention with Marilyn Sabine as general chairman.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting to 22 members by Mona Trego, Fannie Millar, and Joyce Gloyd.

The Ladies Aid of the Evangelical United Brethren Church will meet Thursday evening at the church and the Everfaithful Class will meet Friday evening. Both will meet at their usual times.

The Commission of Education of the Ashville Methodist Church School will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the church. All members, teachers, and superintendents are urged to attend to make final preparations for Promotion Sunday and Rally Day.

Miss Miriam Purcell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Purcell was moved to Mercy Hospital Sunday for observation and treatment after becoming sick on Tuesday at school. She was taken home where she has been bedfast most of the time since. Miriam is an eighth grade student at Ashville.

This Tuesday morning found the Housewives Bowling League getting under way at Prairie Lanes in Circleville with 46 women on hand from both the Ashville and Circleville areas. Out of this group 12 teams were organized. Officers of the group are Mrs. Don Flierl, president; Mrs. Roger Hedges, secretary; and Mrs. Charles Morrison, treasurer.

Mrs. Mary Haper bowled high individual game for the day with a score of 183. Julia Burton scored 467 for high individual three-game total. Team 1 came up with the highest score of 651 for one game and team 4 had the highest score for all three games with a total of 1722.

Team numbers and their members are as follows: Team 1 — Corral Sherman, Mona Lee Morrison, Betty Wheeler and Jean Reigle; Team 2 — Carolyn Peters, Beverly Brinker, Louise Barr and Clara Lou Stewart; Team 3 — Phyllis Williams, Pat Pontious, Helen Burns and Lou Beale; Team 4 — Barbara Parten, Annabelle Crosby, Julia Burton and Freida Manbeavers; Team 5 — Betty Margulis, Mary Knode, Jean Hosler, and Joan Roby; Team 6 — Ann Cromley, Ruth Bowers, Helen Hedges and Virginia Court-right;

Team 7 — Velma Purcell, Ada Lou Deal, Judy Welsh and Liz Sliwinski; Team 8 — Elinor Flierl,

Ohio A-Plant Starts Its Second Decade

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission's big uranium 235-producing plant, which brought Ohio fully into the Atomic Age, moves into its second decade today.

The mammoth gaseous diffusion plant, newest and largest of the three under AEC sponsorship in the United States, actually didn't begin production—even on a partial basis—until September 1954.

But Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. was selected in September 1952 to operate the 4,000-acre facility, and up to 22,000 construction workers soon were at work to build it.

Much of its work has been labeled secret, but the facility has provided $86 million worth of uranium—primary source of nuclear energy—for use by the Atomic Energy Commission in such peaceful projects as medicine, industry and agriculture, officials said.

Among the plant's "customers" is the first atomic-powered merchant ship in the world, the N. S. Savannah. The 22,000-ton vessel now is on a shakedown voyage in the Atlantic.

Isabelle Fisher, Stella Morrison and Esther Duvall; Team 9 — Betty Connell, Betty Dresbach, Joyce Matzenbach and Mary Harper; Team 10 — Evelyn Johnson, Charlotte Rife, Martha Wells and one opening; Team 11 — Joyce Gloyd, Pauline Hall, Janet Bluck and Joan Spence; and Team 12 — Eleanor Moss, Margaret Cook and two openings.

It is hopes of the league that sponsors can be secured for each team. Sponsors fee amounts to $5. Anyone desiring to sponsor a team is asked to contact Mrs. Flierl, YU 3-3941 or Mrs. Hedges, YU 3-2381.

Also three more team members are urgently needed and more women to substitute. The league bowls each Tuesday morning beginning at 9:30 a. m. and women interested should also contact Mrs. Flierl or Mrs. Hedges.

Mrs. Ben Vause visited this past week in Richland, Mich., with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Skowron. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vause, Benny and Lucy, spent the weekend with the Skowrons and returned Mrs. Vause home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Pettibone of South Bloomfield are the parents of twin boys born in Doctors Hospital, Wednesday, Sept. 5. The babies were born at 7:53 p. m. and 7:58 p. m. Trent Layne weighed 6 pounds 13½ ounces and Brent Shane weighed 6 pounds 9 ounces. Their mother is the former Marilyn Hollis.

The Church Softball League which has been in action this summer played their final games Sunday when the Ashville Methodist and First English Lutherans met at 3 p. m. in the park for the play-offs, which consisted of the winner of two out of three games. The Lutherans came out on top by winning both games with scores of 6-5 and 7-0.

The newly organized Teay's Valley Marching Band, directed by Mrs. Mary Jo Gaskella, finds its schedule quite full of coming engagements already. Members participated this past Labor Day at Canal Winchester during the village's annual celebration. The band is also planning to appear at all football games, weather permitting. The band made its first Friday evening when Teay's Valley met Amanda - Salter Creek on the home field. It was hoped that the new uniforms would be ready for the first game but they have been delayed. It is hoped they will be here by the first of October.

Coming engagements include the Circleville Pumpkin Show in October and the Fireman's Parade in Laurelville, September 22.

The Teay's Valley Band Boosters are working hard trying to raise money for the final payments of new uniforms and needed equipment. It is hoped that $3500 can be raised to eliminate this debt. Presently the Boosters are selling picnic trays. They are the same trays that are used in the school cafeteria. The cost is $2.25 per tray and may be ordered by calling any of the band members or Miss Gaskella.

The next regular scheduled band booster meeting will have to be rescheduled due to a conflicting date with Walnut's PTA meeting. Notices will be sent home with students in advance of the meeting.

The Teay's Valley Reserve Football team met Hamilton Township on home field Monday evening at 4:30. Next Monday they will play a home game with Amanda at 4:30 p. m.

The TV Freshmen Football Team will play Hamilton Township Thursday, Sept. 20 on the Hamilton field at 6 p. m.

Coming scheduled events to be held in the new school is a dance on Saturday, Oct. 6, sponsored by the Athletic Booster Club. Toadie Reed will play.

On Saturday evening, Oct. 13 the Athletic Boosters will hold a Euchre Party in the school cafeteria, beginning 8 p. m.

The Past Chiefs Club of Ashville Pythian Sisters will meet at a new scheduled time for this month. They will meet Thursday, Sept. 20 for a 6:30 p. m. dinner in the lodge hall. The meeting was previously scheduled for September 27th.

A holiday will be observed this Friday by all school students in the state so that the teachers may attend the State Teachers Meeting in Columbus.

The Ashville Neighborhood Girl Scout Association will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 at the Ashville Methodist Church. All members are asked to be present for this important meeting.

The Pythian Sisters of the Ashville Temple met in the KP Hall September 4 with Most Excellent Chief Mona Morrison presiding during the business meeting. Plans were completed for a Degree Staff of 20 members to attend the Grand Temple Convention in Toledo Sept. 26-29. The staff will serve as escorts and a court of honor during the session. Grand Chief Francine Peters will preside during the convention. Also attending will be District Deputy Eveline Zwyer and Caroline Pritchard as delegate from the Ashville Temple. Mona Morrison will be the soloist for the opening session. She will be accompanied by Carolyn Peters as organist.

Tentative plans were discussed for the Pythian Sister District Convention to be held in the Ashville Elementary School Building Saturday, October 6. District Deputy Zwyer will be in charge of the convention with Marilyn Sabine as general chairman.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting to 22 members by Mona Trego, Fannie Millar, and Joyce Gloyd.

The Ladies Aid of the Evangelical United Brethren Church will meet Thursday evening at the church and the Everfaithful Class will meet Friday evening. Both will meet at their usual times.

The Commission of Education of the Ashville Methodist Church School will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the church. All members, teachers, and superintendents are urged to attend to make final preparations for Promotion Sunday and Rally Day.

Miss Miriam Purcell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Purcell was moved to Mercy Hospital Sunday for observation and treatment after becoming sick on Tuesday at school. She was taken home where she has been bedfast most of the time since. Miriam is an eighth grade student at Ashville.

This Tuesday morning found the Housewives Bowling League getting under way at Prairie Lanes in Circleville with 46 women on hand from both the Ashville and Circleville areas. Out of this group 12 teams were organized. Officers of the group are Mrs. Don Flierl, president; Mrs. Roger Hedges, secretary; and Mrs. Charles Morrison, treasurer.

Mrs. Mary Haper bowled high individual game for the day with a score of 183. Julia Burton scored 467 for high individual three-game total. Team 1 came up with the highest score of 651 for one game and team 4 had the highest score for all three games with a total of 1722.

Team numbers and their members are as follows: Team 1 — Corral Sherman, Mona Lee Morrison, Betty Wheeler and Jean Reigle; Team 2 — Carolyn Peters, Beverly Brinker, Louise Barr and Clara Lou Stewart; Team 3 — Phyllis Williams, Pat Pontious, Helen Burns and Lou Beale; Team 4 — Barbara Parten, Annabelle Crosby, Julia Burton and Freida Manbeavers; Team 5 — Betty Margulis, Mary Knode, Jean Hosler, and Joan Roby; Team 6 — Ann Cromley, Ruth Bowers, Helen Hedges and Virginia Court-right;

Team 7 — Velma Purcell, Ada Lou Deal, Judy Welsh and Liz Sliwinski; Team 8 — Elinor Flierl,

Ohio A-Plant Starts Its Second Decade

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission's big uranium 235-producing plant, which brought Ohio fully into the Atomic Age, moves into its second decade today.

The mammoth gaseous diffusion plant, newest and largest of the three under AEC sponsorship in the United States, actually didn't begin production—even on a partial basis—until September 1954.

But Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. was selected in September 1952 to operate the 4,000-acre facility, and up to 22,000 construction workers soon were at work to build it.

Much of its work has been labeled secret, but the facility has provided $86 million worth of uranium—primary source of nuclear energy—for use by the Atomic Energy Commission in such peaceful projects as medicine, industry and agriculture, officials said.

Among the plant's "customers" is the first atomic-powered merchant ship in the world, the N. S. Savannah. The 22,000-ton vessel now is on a shakedown voyage in the Atlantic.

Isabelle Fisher, Stella Morrison and Esther Duvall; Team 9 — Betty Connell, Betty Dresbach, Joyce Matzenbach and Mary Harper; Team 10 — Evelyn Johnson, Charlotte Rife, Martha Wells and one opening; Team 11 — Joyce Gloyd, Pauline Hall, Janet Bluck and Joan Spence; and Team 12 — Eleanor Moss, Margaret Cook and two openings.

It is hopes of the league that sponsors can be secured for each team. Sponsors fee amounts to $5. Anyone desiring to sponsor a team is asked to contact Mrs. Flierl, YU 3-3941 or Mrs. Hedges, YU 3-2381.

Also three more team members are urgently needed and more women to substitute. The league bowls each Tuesday morning beginning at 9:30 a. m. and women interested should also contact Mrs. Flierl or Mrs. Hedges.

Mrs. Ben Vause visited this past week in Richland, Mich., with her daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Skowron, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vause, Benny and Lucy, spent the weekend with the Skowrons and returned Mrs. Vause home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Pettibone of South Bloomfield are the parents of twin boys born in Doctors Hospital, Wednesday, Sept. 5. The babies were born at 7:53 p. m. and 7:58 p. m. Trent Layne weighed 6 pounds 13 1/2 ounces and Brent Shane weighed 6 pounds 9 ounces. Their mother is the former Marilyn Hollis.

The Church Softball League which has been in action this summer played their final games Sunday when the Ashville Methodist and First English Lutherans met at 3 p. m. in the park for the play-offs, which consisted of the winner of two out of three games. The Lutherans came out on top by winning both games with scores of 6-5 and 7-0.

Tip for Borrowers

If you've been having trouble borrowing money lately, it may be that you don't cross your Ts in a way to inspire confidence.

That's the word from the International Graphoanalysis Society Inc., meeting in Chicago. It seems that an increasing number of banks, credit agencies, industry personnel managers and police departments are keeping an eye on the way people write to determine whether they are worthwhile risks.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Business is good and improving. Or business isn't good enough and that spells trouble. It all depends on your point of view.

About all that everyone has to admit is that, over all, conditions aren't bad at all and that a lot of people did a lot of unnecessary worrying.

The end-of-summer figures popping up almost daily aren't too much help, because either side can quote them to bolster its point. But some of the figures are a surprise, such as the improvement in manufacturers' profits.

Most of the statistics show business improving. And yet most of them fall short of earlier hopes expressed in official quarters.

That's the rub. This falling short has caused much of the uneasiness in the stock market, uncertainty in corporate boardrooms, and consumer perplexity.

Yet the figures show personal incomes are higher, profits have increased, jobs are at a record high and retail sales are up.

Plans for the fall season are mostly on the optimistic side. Expansion and modernization programs are being announced with fair regularity, and some by industries that only a few weeks back were complaining the most of slack times, the profit squeeze, foreign competition, and poor prospects.

Profits after taxes of manufacturing companies in the second quarter were the second best on record, the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission reports. At $4.6 billion they were up 16 percent from the first quarter and surpassed only by the $4.9 billion in 1959's second quarter.

The same reports put manufacturing sales at a record $99.1 billion, up 7 percent from the first quarter. Business leaders, however, stress that while sales hit a peak, profits were only second best. But the fact that they rose sharply from the first quarter surprised many who had been forecasting doom.

Profits before taxes of all corporations, including the manufacturing segment, hit an annual rate of $50.9 billion in the second quarter, some $800 million higher than in the first quarter. The record was set in the second quarter of 1959 at $51.5 billion.

In announcing these figures the Department of Commerce noted that the second quarter gain this year still left profits far short of the $56.5 billion goal which official Washington had set in January. The shortness has hurt business confidence, and also U.S. Treasury expectations of corporate income tax collections.

The Labor Department reports that nonfarm jobs rose 225,000 in August to a record of 55,744,000. But again the rise was short of expectations. This was due in part to layoffs in the auto industry for model changeovers.

Factory work weeks averaged out to 44 hours. But seasonally adjusted this was sixteenth of an hour less than in April.

Still the total of wage and salary incomes rose $300 million in August, and other categories added $600 million, to bring the annual rate to $442.8 billion, a record.

All of this adds up to prosperity. But important voices say it isn't prosperity enough.

One is the administration, which wants its January goals reached—sometime, if belatedly.

Another is organized labor, which says the unemployment rate of more than 5 percent of the labor force is intolerable. It wants the standard work week dropped from 40 hours to 35, saying this would mean more jobs.

Future of American Education

I have read carefully the reports of Vice Admiral Rickover on Russian and Swiss education. Now, I am reading his report, "Education for All Children, What We Can Learn from England." Actually, this is not a book, but the Hearings before the Committee on Appropriations by the House of Representatives and copies are obtainable by writing to the Committee.

Admiral Rickover is the father of the nuclear submarine and is therefore an heroic figure in American life. He got into the educational field because he needed men to work on the nuclear submarine. He said:

"I am a customer for the products of our schools. I tried to get people to help me do a job in nuclear power development, and I found the product of our schools quite unsatisfactory, so I set out to find the reasons."

He has devoted himself to the problem of American education not only by studying our schools, but by making comparisons with the educational systems of other countries and by setting up special schools for the men who have to work in nuclear physics.

Rickover says:

"You can inform yourself about anything in two ways: by personal experience and by studying the experience of others. Personal experience is necessarily limited by the kind of life you lead and the kind of work you do. But study of the experience of others is limited only by the time you can find to study, to read, to correspond or to talk with experts. Now anybody can read books."

Unfortunately the professional educator is not too concerned with the fact that when Rickover and thousands of other productive men put the educators' work to test, they find their system wanting. We all get secretaries who cannot spell, researchers who know no source material, accountants whose figures go awry, etc. Of this Rickover says:

"Like most bureaucracies, this huge organization would like to escape lay criticism and tries to do so, by constantly using the stereotyped argument that only 'professionals' or 'insiders' can judge the performance of other professionals and anyway, nobody can judge the schools unless he has personally inspected every school in the country, sat in every classroom of every school and listened to every child in every classroom of every school."

"Now these are splendid gimmicks if all that the educators want is to save themselves the trouble to answer criticism of the schools. The most effective critics have almost always been outsiders — individuals working on their own, individuals who have no access to public funds that finance junkets of educators around the world. These days they rarely obtain even a foundation grant."

But the real test as to whether an educational system is worthwhile is its product. An educated man is really one who is capable of knowing everything and of applying his knowledge when called upon to do so. There are no limits to the capacity of the human mind. The only restrictions are time and the will to labor. To this might be added, the need for direction.

Admiral Rickover says of this:

"As a practical man I am not much interested in the mystique or esoterics of education which fascinate so many of our professional educators. I freely admit I judge schools by their products. Literally thousands of these products pass through my hands and those of my leading scientists and engineers when we interview young people who apply for positions as designers and builders of nuclear reactors or as officers and men to operate our nuclear ships. I find the percentage so qualified to be deplorably small."

Those selected we send to special schools set up and run by our own naval reactors grow up. These schools do not teach reactor technology alone; they also have to teach many basic subjects which abroad have already been taught in the regular schools. My 'school system' of six schools at different levels from high school to graduate university. So, I can claim some personal experience with educating young Americans."

I have just started to read this book and am excited by what I have seen so far. It is not that we need to imitate Russia or Switzerland or Great Britain; it is rather that it is necessary for us to reorganize our educational system so that our people can both know and do.

Utilization of the sea's fusible deuterium would furnish great power — science item. But first we'd best learn how to pronounce it!

The Transportation and Travel pavilion of the 1964-1965 New York World's Fair will have its floors suspended by cables from 120-foot pylons, news item. Milt, the sterling printer, says this sounds like a modern-day version of a castle in the air.

In Florida a raided still was found to be equipped with an electric deodorizer. How'd the revenuers manage to smell that one out?

LAFF-A-DAY

"They say his art career has hit rock bottom."

Try and Stop Me
By BENNETT CERF

THE LATE FRED ALLEN, one of the canniest and best-loved personalities in all show business, spotted the drift in television early in the game. "The only performers who will last in this medium," he predicted accurately, "will be the 'pointers.' Pointers never do anything themselves. They merely stand in the center of the stage, point to another performer, and announce, 'See that fellow? He's going to do the darndest trick you ever saw!' Then the other fellow comes out and does the trick. A week later, the pointer is back gesturing at somebody else, but the fellow who did the great trick has already given his all and is out in the cold. TV can eliminate pointers if times get tough enough. They can teach dogs to do the same routine simply by smearing meat on the actors'!"

A law school professor was warning a first-year class what to expect on the final examination. "It will be at least twenty pages long and you'll need about five hours to answer everything properly." When the class looked stunned, he added, consolingly, "Don't worry. You'll all be in the same boat."

"Yeah," groaned a young man in the last row. "The Titanic!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Being fat is a problem with heavy consequences.

Extra pounds force you to huff and puff. Often you don't get enough air and your breathing control center grows sluggish. You inhale still less. Your heart has to pump harder and stiff, aching joints crumble under a heavy load.

Fatty organs burst through the abdomen's muscular corset (hernias) — especially around navel and groin. Golden fat sops up extra female hormones, toppling that delicate chemical balance.

Menstrual cycles stretch out longer and longer and often stop. Scanty flow may suddenly gush into serious blood loss.

The trained fingers of a doctor trying to feel swelling and tenderness through thick layers of fat resemble blind fingers trying to read braille through several thick cardboard. And so, serious trouble is often discovered too late.

Operations take longer when there's more to cut through. High blood pressure, swelling and related troubles plague plump expectant mothers. Labor lasts longer and may end with a Caesarian operation. Birth may be premature.

All this because you're addicted to rich, fattening foods. Gland trouble is hardly ever responsible. To lick the rich-food habit, eat smaller portions on smaller plates so they won't look lonely.

No seconds!

Drink skim milk.

Substitute fruit for sweet, sticky pastries and pies.

Try vinegar and lemon juice instead of oily salad dressing.

Trim away all fat before eating meat.

Talking Machines Not Needed
By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Science is excited about the future of machines that talk.

Cooler heads are more concerned with what the machines will have to say. They also raise the question of whether the potential market for mechanical talking machines isn't rather small.

To many of us, a verbal robot falls pretty much in the same category as a talking horse, bird, dog — or wife. When you've heard one, you've heard 'em all. The first feeling of astonishment quickly gives way to ennui as you discover their vocabulary and observations are, on the whole, limited and repetitive.

For example, the world-record feathered conversationalist was probably "Sandy Pauls," a yellow, brown-beaked kauderiger, which died in Middlesex, England, in 1959 at the age of 7.

This talkative bird—it will surprise few to learn that "Sandy" was a female—could speak more than 300 different words and recite 12 nursery rhymes.

A cursory glance at the latest edition of "Bartlett's Quotations," however, fails to find that "Sandy" ever said anything truly memorable. And how many days in a row would you like to be awakened by a brown-beaked kauderiger squawking "Mary had a little lamb," or "London Bridge is falling down"?

It is quite likely, of course, that science can come up with a metallic talking machine with a really large vocabulary, one capable of making original remarks and perhaps even able to give us sound advice.

But, again, who really needs it or wants it?

People have a built-in resistance against taking sound advice, and they resent cleverness and wit in others. Any electronic wisecracking robot that tried to be the life of a cocktail party would quickly be silenced by having sand flung in its gears, or gin poured down its vocal hinges.

There might be some value in a talking machine that would listen to what we had to say, but restricted its own conversation to phrases of agreement and encouragement.

Sample sentences:

"I feel exactly the same as you do about the whole matter, but I could never hope to say it as well."

Unfortunately the professional educator is not too concerned with the fact that when Rickover and thousands of other productive men put the educators' work to test, they find their system wanting. We all get secretaries who cannot spell, researchers who know no source material, accountants whose figures go awry, etc. Of this Rickover says:

"Like most bureaucracies, this huge organization would like to escape lay criticism and tries to do so, by constantly using the stereotyped argument that only 'professionals' or 'insiders' can judge the performance of other professionals and anyway, nobody can judge the schools unless he has personally inspected every school in the country, sat in every classroom of every school and listened to every child in every classroom of every school."

"Now these are splendid gimmicks if all that the educators want is to save themselves the trouble to answer criticism of the schools. The most effective critics have almost always been outsiders — individuals working on their own, individuals who have no access to public funds that finance junkets of educators around the world. These days they rarely obtain even a foundation grant."

But the real test as to whether an educational system is worthwhile is its product. An educated man is really one who is capable of knowing everything and of applying his knowledge when called upon to do so. There are no limits to the capacity of the human mind. The only restrictions are time and the will to labor. To this might be added, the need for direction.

Admiral Rickover says this: "As a practical man I am not much interested in the mystique or esoteric of education which fascinate so many of our professional educators. I freely admit I judge schools by their products. Literally thousands of these products pass through my hands and those of my leading scientists and engineers when we interview young people who apply for positions as designers and builders of nuclear reactors or as officers and men to operate our nuclear ships. I find the percentage so qualified to be deplorably small."

Those selected we must send to special schools set up and run by our own naval reactors group. These schools do not teach reactor technology alone; they also have to teach many basic subjects which abroad have already been taught in the regular schools. 'School system' of six schools enrolled about 2,500 students at different levels from high school to graduate university. So, I can claim some personal experience with educating young Americans."

I have just started to read this book and am excited by what I have seen so far. It is not that we need to imitate Russia or Switzerland or Great Britain; it is rather that it is necessary for us to reorganize our educational system so that our people can both know and do.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE LATE FRED ALLEN, one of the canniest and best-loved personalities in all show business, spotted the drift in television early in the game. "The only performers who will last in this medium," he predicted accurately, "will be the 'pointers.' Pointers never do anything themselves. They merely stand in the center of the stage, point to another performer, and announce, 'See that fellow? He's going to do the darndest trick you ever saw!'"

Then the other fellow comes out and does the trick. A week later, the pointer is back gesturing at somebody else, but the fellow who did the great trick has already given his all and is out in the cold. TV can eliminate pointers if times get tough enough. They can teach dogs to do the same routine simply by smearing meat on the actors'.

A law school professor was warning a first-year class what to expect on the final examination. "It will be at least twenty pages long and you'll need about five hours to answer everything properly." When the class looked stunned, he added, consolingly, "Don't worry. You'll all be in the same boat."

"Yeah," groaned a young man in the last row. "The Titanic!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Being fat is a problem with heavy consequences.

Extra pounds force you to huff and puff. Often you don't get enough air and your breathing control center grows sluggish. You inhale still less. Your heart has to thump harder and stiff, aching joints crumple under a heavy load.

Fatty organs burst through the abdomen's muscular corset (hernias) — especially around navel and groin. Golden fat sops up extra female hormones, toppling that delicate chemical balance.

Menstrual cycles stretch out longer and longer and often stop. Scanty flow may suddenly gush into serious blood loss.

The trained fingers of a doctor trying to feel swelling and tenderness through thick layers of fat resemble blind fingers trying to read braille through several thick cardboard. And so, serious trouble is often discovered too late.

Operations take longer when there's more to cut through.

High blood pressure, swelling and related troubles plague plump expectant mothers. Labor lasts longer and may end with a Caesarian operation. Birth may be premature.

All this because you're addicted to rich, fattening foods. Gland trouble is hardly ever responsible. To lick the rich-food habit, eat smaller portions on smaller plates so they won't look lonely.

No seconds!
Drink skim milk.
Substitute fruit for sweet, sticky pastries and pies.

Try vinegar and lemon juice instead of oily salad dressing. Trim away all fat before eating meat.

Reach for a carrot instead of a candy.

Keep a bowl of celery, pickles, radishes and carrot sticks handy in case you want a snack.

Syrupy, whipped-cream topped, triple-scoop banana splits are out. Eat slowly, savoring each tiny bite.

A little exercise — like a brisk walk — tones up muscles and helps shrink appetite.

If you're very heavy you may not notice the steady weight loss until that magic day when you look down and see them once again — your toes!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Talking Machines Not Needed

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Science is excited about the future of machines that talk.

Cooler heads are more concerned with what the machines will have to say. They also raise the question of whether the potential market for mechanical talking machines isn't rather small.

To many of us, a verbal robot falls pretty much in the same category as a talking horse, bird, dog—or wife. When you've heard one, you've heard 'em all. The first feeling of astonishment quickly gives way to ennui as you discover their vocabulary and observations are, on the whole, limited and repetitive.

For example, the world-record feathered conversationalist was probably "Sandy Pauls," a yellow, brown-beaked kaudgerigar, which died in Middlesex, England, in 1959 at the age of 7.

This talkative bird—it will surprise few to learn that "Sandy" was a female—could speak more than 300 different words and recite 12 nursery rhymes.

A cursory glance at the latest edition of "Bartlett's Quotations," however, fails to find that "Sandy" ever said anything truly memorable. And how many days in a row would you like to be awakened by a brown-beaked kaudgerigar squawking "Mary had a little lamb," or "London Bridge is falling down?"

It is quite likely, of course, that science can come up with a metallic talking machine with a really large vocabulary, one capable of making original remarks and perhaps even able to give us sound advice.

But, again, who really needs it or wants it?

People have a built-in resistance against taking sound advice, and they resent cleverness and wit in others. Any electronic wisecracking robot that tried to be the life of a cocktail party would quickly be silenced by having sand flung in its gears, or gin poured down its vocal hinges.

There might be some value in a talking machine that would listen to what we had to say, but restricted its own conversation to phrases of agreement and encouragement.

Sample sentences:
"I feel exactly the same as you do about the whole matter, but I could never hope to say it as well."

Whipstock Bill Tells Court How To Drill Crooked Wells

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Whipstock Bill James sat in the sweatbox of a courtroom. He looked worried but somehow he didn't seem to share the gloom of the others there.

There was a somberly intent expression in Whipstock Bill's face, weathered by 45 years in the blistering sun, the rain and the cold of the oil fields.

His main concern appeared to be telling — in terms a layman could understand — how to sink a particular kind of oil well.

Bill is — or was — a driller hired to thrust holes in the ground at slant.

The frequent application of his skilled hands and others who know his trade set off one of the new, great scandals in Texas.

It involves more people than the Billie Sol Estes affair did.

It is called slant-hole drilling, or crooked well drilling, or deviated drilling.

A crooked well is drilled so it will bottom under another oilman's lease. Thus the slant well owner can steal his neighbor's oil.

Authorities claim oil worth $10 million a year is stolen this way.

The state says it has found more than 125 illegally drilled wells. Sixty four were junked by the operators before crews could test them.

Whipstock Bill testified there may be as many as 300 to 350 crooked wells in the East Texas field alone.

Asked how many he had drilled, he first said: "Whew. God only knows." Later he estimated 100.

Whipstock Bill said a driller with the proper skills can drill to beneath a point three-quarters of a mile away and not miss his mark a degree.

The driller gained his name from a device called a whipstock.

As Bill described the whipstock, it is a piece of pipe placed in the well. Its top is slanted at a pre-determined angle.

Thus when a drilling bit is rotated in the well, the whipstock nudges the bit a little to one side, slanting the hole.

Whipstock testified in Dallas before a Texas House investigating committee.

Committee counsel David Witts explained that Whipstock Bill merely did the jobs laid out for him by others.

Gloom clouded numerous faces in the hearing room because the state accuses many of pumping oil from slanted wells.

The Texas Railroad Commission which regulates oil production, has ordered all wells on leases containing even one illegally slanted well cut off from pipelines. This means the oilmen have no way to market even legally pumped oil. Nearly 600 wells were cut off at one time for this reason, although a few connections have since been restored.

Ugly Roaring Beetle Seeks Revolution in Transportation

RHYL, Wales (AP)—From the inside it looked like a distorted airliner, much too wide for its length.

Twenty-four passengers sat in four rows of six. All plainly suffered from takeoff nerves.

The steward's voice came from the speaker system: "Welcome aboard the world's first Hovercraft service. In a few moments we shall be leaving for Wallasey. Your driver is Capt. Colquhoun."

The engines revved up and the kids on the beach scattered. It wasn't raining but Les Colquhoun, 42, test pilot and wartime Royal Air Force hero, switched on his windshield wipers.

He eased back the yellow throttle handle. The hovercraft, an ugly roaring beetle contending for a transport revolution, lifted its 10 tons off the sand and slithered gently over the dunes toward the sea.

The hovercraft was the VA3, one of a dozen under development here. It rides eight inches above land or sea on a cushion of air produced by two gas turbine engines. Two more engines drive rear-mounted propellers to move it forward.

A shower of spray whipped past the windows as the VA3 moved onto the surf and swished up to 50 miles per hour.

The noise was exactly that of a four-engine airliner. The motion was different.

Over the sand the ride was ice smooth.

Over the sea it developed a pitch, something like a plane in slight turbulence, punctuated by heavy jolts as big waves slapped up against the bow.

Even then no seat belts were needed. The passengers faced backwards. The jolts just shoved them deeper in their seats.

Colquhoun headed his craft along the coast and into open water. Wales slipped away and the English shore came through the spray.

Twenty five minutes after leaving, the VA3 edged onto a concrete slipway at Wallasey, 17 miles across the Dee Estuary from Rhyll. By road it is 50 miles and 90 minutes.

The passengers trooped off, all feeling oneup on the watching crowds.

Five years ago none of them had heard of a hovercraft, then little more than an idea in the brain of inventor Christopher Cockerell.

Cockerell built his first model from two food cans. He showed it to the government's military advisers who put it on the secret list and did nothing more. It took Cockerell a year to get the idea declassified and under government-financed development. Now four major companies are pushing it hard.

Two years ago a small hovercraft called the SRN1 went from France to England. Last July the VA3 started the Rhyll-Wallasey run, making eight return trips daily and always working at more than 90 per cent capacity.

The experiment — it is nothing more, not a serious transportation service — ends next week when Rhyll's holiday clients have returned to the factories of Manchester and the English Midlands.

The third Tiros in the series of weather satellites flashed reports of five Atlantic hurricanes and nine typhoons in the Pacific in 1961. It detected Esther while that hurricane was forming, two days before reconnaissance aircraft located it.

TODAY In History

Today is Thursday, Sept. 13, the 256th day of 1962. There are 109 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1917, the Russian counter-revolutionary army under Gen. Lauris Korniloff surrendered. Two days earlier the Russian Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies had voted to support Alexander Kerensky and ordered the arrest of Korniloff's generals. Kerensky later proclaimed Russia a republic and formed a coalition government.

On this date: In 1788, the Constitutional Convention authorized the first election in the United States.

In 1814, the British fleet bombarded Ft. McHenry, during which Baltimore lawyer Francis Scott Key penned "The Star-Spangled Banner."

In 1905, the Japanese warship Mikasa exploded and sank with the loss of 599 lives.

In 1936, two villages were destroyed and more than 50 persons killed by an avalanche of rock from Norway's Mt. Ravnfjeld which crashed into Loen Lake.

In 1949, a $200,000 fire destroyed 300 feet of Atlantic City's million dollar pier.

Today's birthdays: Actress Claudette Colbert is 57. Theatrical producer Leland Hayward is 67.

Thought for today: The world is a comedy to those that think; a tragedy to those that feel—Horace Walpole.

Five years ago none of them had heard of a hovercraft, then little more than an idea in the brain of inventor Christopher Cockerell.

Cockerell built his first model from two food cans. He showed it to the government's military advisers who put it on the secret list and did nothing more. It took Cockerell a year to get the idea declassified and under government-financed development. Now four major companies are pushing it hard.

Two years ago a small hovercraft called the SRN1 went from France to England. Last July the VA3 started the Rhyl-Wallasey run, making eight return trips daily and always working at more than 90 per cent capacity.

The experiment — it is nothing more, not a serious transportation service — ends next week when Rhyl's holiday clients have returned to the factories of Manchester and the English Midlands.

The third Tiro in the series of weather satellites flashed reports of five Atlantic hurricanes and nine typhoons in the Pacific in 1961. It detected Esther while that hurricane was forming, two days before reconnaissance aircraft located it.

TODAY In History

Today is Thursday, Sept. 13, the 256th day of 1962. There are 109 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1917, the Russian counter-revolutionary army under Gen. Lauris Korniloff surrendered. Two days earlier the Russian Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies had voted to support Alexander Kerensky and ordered the arrest of Korniloff's generals. Kerensky later proclaimed Russia a republic and formed a coalition government.

On this date:

In 1788, the Constitutional Convention authorized the first election in the United States.

In 1814, the British fleet bombarded Ft. McHenry, during which Baltimore lawyer Francis Scott Key penned "The Star-Spangled Banner."

In 1905, the Japanese warship Mikasa exploded and sank with the loss of 599 lives.

In 1936, two villages were destroyed and more than 50 persons killed by an avalanche of rock from Norway's Mt. Ravnfield which crashed into Loen Lake.

In 1949, a $200,000 fire destroyed 300 feet of Atlantic City's million dollar pier.

Today's birthdays:

Actress Claudette Colbert is 57. Theatrical producer Leland Hayward is 67.

Thought for today:

The world is a comedy to those that think; a tragedy to those that feel—Horace Walpole.

Solaqua Club Members Visit Denton TV Show

Twenty-eight members and guests of the Solaqua Garden Club appeared on the Jack Denton TV show last Friday morning.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, president, received a coffeemaker and check for the Club with compliments of the TV show. Many other prizes were won by the group.

A luncheon was held at the Stouffer Inn following the show. Mrs. Harry Trump, ways and means chairman, and her daughter, Miss Mary K. Trump, planned the luncheon. Miss Trump is an executive of the Stouffer Company, Cleveland.

The group assembled in the Chatham Room for their business session.

2 Women Join Methodist WSCS

Circle No. 3 of the First Methodist Church WSCS met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Fullen. Mrs. Clinton Ritchie and Mrs. Richard Hartman were accepted as new members.

Mrs. Irvin Reid, chairman, conducted the meeting. Mrs. E. D. Petty, chairman of the program committee, introduced Mrs. Robert Johnson who gave the Devotionals, using Psalms 9-17 as the basis of her talk.

Mrs. Dwight Steele presented a check for $84.47 received for sales tax stamps during the summer.

A general discussion of projects was held during the social hour. Refreshments were served to 17 members present by the hostess and her committee Miss Marvane Howard and Mrs. Willison Leist.

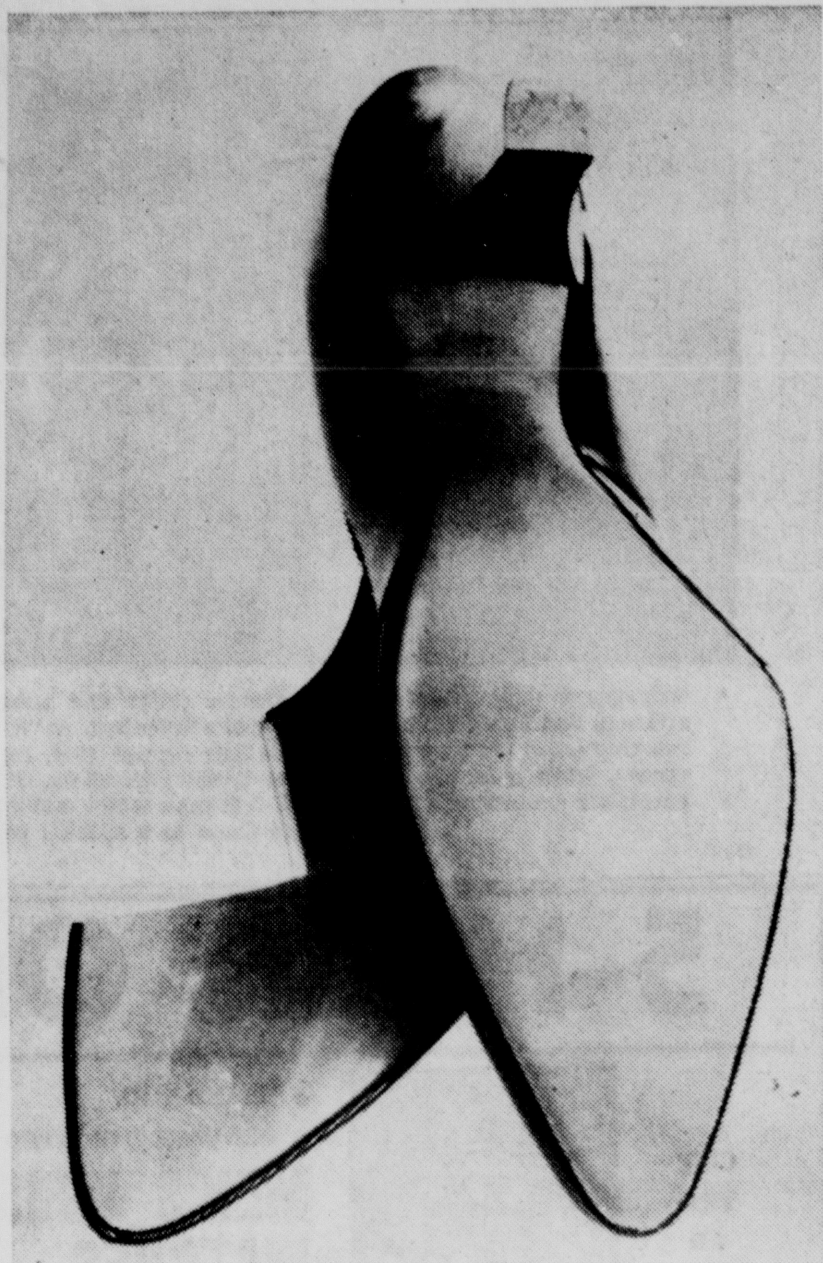

Shrine Club Holds Annual Ladies Night

The Pickaway Shrine Club held its annual Ladies Night with a banquet Monday evening at the American Legion Hall. Present were 120 members and guests, including the illustrious Potentate, L. Kirts Osborne and his Divan from Aladdin Temple, Columbus.

Joseph Peters, Pickaway Club treasurer, reported that the Horse Show held in July netted $1,500 for the Crippled Children's Fund.

The next meeting will be Oct. 10 when arrangements will be made for the Pumpkin Show Parade.

Following the banquet The Picadors, a musical unit from Alladin Temple, provided entertainment for the evening.

'Sof Sole' Construction

New Air Step Turns Fashion Upside Down

Fashion is turned upside down in Air Step's new "Sof Sole". Now even the bottom of the sole is beautiful.

The "Sof Sole" construction is a modern-day platform without bulk, weight or stiffness. Six layers of comfort concealed inside the sole are: Kangaroo outsole, foam rubber, Pellon, felt filler, Bainflex insole, and full length sock lining. Normal abrasion on the sole is practically eliminated as the layers move slightly under the foot in walking.

It works something like the tread on a car tire. As the car starts or stops the tread flexes forward or backward, thus cutting down on abrasive wear. The inside of the shoe is the same as in regular construction so fit is not affected.

Once for once the triple treated soft Kangaroo outsole, with beaded edge for a magnificent custom look, is tougher than elephant hide. In fact it is the toughest leather known to man.

The triple treating includes: scuff proofing for extra wear and silicone and latex treating for water proofing.

Women no longer need complain about the problems of thin soles,

Noted Curator Guest Speaker

Dr. Raymond Baby, curator of the Ohio State Museum, was guest speaker Tuesday evening when the Pickaway County Garden Club met in the High School cafeteria.

Mrs. Miller Dunkel, program chairman, introduced Dr. Baby who spoke on "Indian Mounds".

He talked of the mound excavations in the Pickaway County area and showed slides of the Niles-Woolford mounds on the farm of the late Charlie Niles, Jackson Twp. He spoke of Niles' interest and cooperation in the excavation project. The four skeletons uncovered dated back to about 500 B.C.

Slides proved that excavating is both an art and a science and should be left to the experts. According to Dr. Baby, visitors are welcome at excavation sites "Unless", he said, "they get in our hair and then we tell them to scat".

Dr. Baby refuted the idea that some mounds are signal mounds and added that they are either burial sites or temple mounds. He said that for the most part they were destroyed after excavation although there were cases where they were left intact.

He added that there is only one authentic serpent mound in Ohio.

He believes the other two have been a "W" shaped mound with the tail and head of the serpent added much later.

Mrs. Schubert Measamer presided during the business session. Mrs. John Eshelman read the minutes in the absence of Mrs. Edwin Richardson, secretary. Yearly reports were given by: Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer, treasurer; Mrs. James Moffitt, workshop chairman; Mrs. Guy Campbell, civic committee chairman; Mrs. Charles Thompson, flower show chairman and Mrs. Theodore Huston ways and means chairman.

Dates to be circled on the calendar include Garden Club of Ohio Yearly meeting, September 25 and 26, Course II of National Council Flower Show School, October 22, 23, 24 and the Columbus Council of Garden Club of Ohio Christmas meeting, November 9.

Yellow linen covered the refreshment table highlighted with an autumn arrangement of coleus marigolds and crabapples in a wooden compote. Candies in brass holders flanked the bouquet.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. C. K. Vaughan, Mrs. Harry Heffner, Mrs. Frank Bennett, Mrs. Kenney Hanan and Mrs. Moffitt.

Miss Johnson, Mr. Davis Are United

Miss Terria Johnson became the bride of Mr. Harold Eugene Davis Saturday in a late afternoon ceremony in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Alonzo Hill, 128 W. Corwin St.

Rev. Hill read the nuptial vows for the couple during the quiet double ring ceremony.

The new Mrs. Davis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Speakman, Route 1, Stoutsville. Mr. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Davis, 396 Eva Drive.

For her wedding the bride wore a pale blue two-piece wool suit and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Davis, a 1962 graduate of Circleville High School, is employed at Lincoln Molded Plastics Inc. The couple will reside at 440 Ray Ave.

Personals

Mr. Orrin L. Gessley and daughter Kay of Cincinnati have returned home after spending 10 days with his sister, Mrs. Nellie W. Freese, 517 E. Franklin St. Their visit here followed a 5,000 mile trip, via jet airliner, to the Seattle World's Fair, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Registered Nurses Extend Invitation

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

'Tain't Fair, Lady

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me what to do with a husband who travels? He comes home on week ends, lays down all kinds of laws and rules for me to enforce on the children, and then leaves town for a whole week.

I am about to lose my mind. The children are 7, 9, 13, 14 and 16. I tell my husband if he is going to make laws he will have to stay home and see that they are carried out. Am I unreasonable? UNNERVED

DEAR UNNERVED: Really, now, men who travel for a living cannot well stay home to discipline the children. If your husband insists on laying down "laws and rules" for the children, he should do it with them personally, explaining meanwhile that their mother must have cooperation in his absence. The enforcement task must be yours. But you are entitled to participation and support from your husband.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a girl and want to marry her, but my family objects to her. My parents are rarely wrong and they are very much upset about my plans. They say she is "wrong" for me, but I just don't feel that way. I am 21. Could I be wrong? I have the kindest mother and father in the world. And my sisters, who are also very good to me and want me to be happy, don't like her either. I hate to hurt them by marrying a girl they don't like. Please tell me what to do.

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: WHY does your family object to this girl? They could be wrong—and so could you. But unless they tell you why they think she is "wrong" for you, do your own thinking.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a young woman who, within 30 minutes after being introduced to a young man, asks him his religion, whether he believes in a "double standard" and if he thinks a wife should work?

WILLIAM
DEAR WILLIAM: The young man should reply, "I'm an atheist, the double standard is standard operating procedure for me, and what else are wives good for?"

CONFIDENTIAL TO DOUG:
There IS safety in numbers, but be sure you don't get your numbers mixed up.

Gourmet fare: Chopped smoked oysters (they come canned) added to an omelet.

Weekly Food Review

Housewives disturbed by erratic red meat prices at supermarkets this weekend may well cry fowl. Such as turkeys, broiler-fryers or baking hens.

Poultry continues very reasonable in price.

Red meat prices are higher in many places this weekend, though some large chains report no appreciable change and several than in previous weeks.

A national chain is offering smoked hams at 29 cents a pound (shank portion) in its metropolitan New York outlets.

Also featured by a big chain is veal, with leg and rump selling at 49 cents a pound and boneless veal shoulder pegged at 69 cents.

Bacon, sausage, franks, bologna and pork butts and lamb legs and shoulders are among the meat items that have been least affected by recent price rises.

Beef and pork increases have been laid in part to market withholding by the National Farmers Organization and also to seasonal factors.

Vegetable features include beets, green onions, tomatoes, sweet corn, brussels sprouts, cabbage, eggplant, broccoli, peas and spinach. Pumpkin is becoming plentiful on the west coast. Cooler weather has reduced lettuce and green bean supplies in some places.

Fruit features include apples, honeydew melons, plums, cantaloup and nectarines. The season is starting to peak out for the peaches.

Milk prices and dairy products continue economical. Other current bargains include salad oils and frozen orange juice concentrate.

Gen. John A. Logan, commander of the Union veterans' Grand Army of the Republic, issued his Order No. 11 in 1868, setting May 30 as an annual date for "strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades. . . Whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard of the land."

were the Sunday guests of the David Luckharts.

Mrs. Hazel Vincent of New Holland was the all day guest Thursday of the Max Luckhart family here.

Miss Mabel Aldenderfer of Columbus spent Labor Day with her sister Mrs. Helen Strous in our valley.

Mrs. Dora Reichelderfer of Columbus was the Labor Day guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bochart in our valley.

Labor Day supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Reichelderfer and family were Mr. and Mrs. John Reichelderfer, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mowery and family all of Columbus.

Mrs. Florence Mowery and son Harry and Mrs. Nellie Mowery was an evening caller. All enjoyed homemade ice cream, pie, cake and coffee.

Mrs. Dora Reichelderfer of Columbus spent the weekend with her son Dick and family in our valley and all attended the Valentine family reunion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Benson-haver and family and Mrs. Mabel Childers at Lancaster.

Mrs. Nellie Mowery returned home Monday after a six weeks stay in her cottage at the Lancaster Camp meeting.

A number from here attended the first ball game Friday night between Logan Elm and Mt. Sterling at the Circleville football field.

Grain, Wheat Payments Are Under Way

Final payments to farmers taking part in the 1962 wheat stabilization program are now being made throughout Pickaway County. Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee announced today.

As a means of helping farmers meet their production expenses and at the same time maintain their income, advance payments were made to many producers at the time they signed their intention of participating in the program.

Mowery reminded farmers that compliance with provisions of the diversion programs does not end with receipt of the final program payments. The land retired from production may not be grazed or a crop harvested from it through the whole year 1962, and it must be devoted to an approved conservation use, with all their program provisions being fully met.

A violation of program provisions could result in a substantial loss to the producer.

Payments under the 1962 programs are directed toward maintaining farmers' incomes during the period of adjusting production to more realistic levels. The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Can a Supreme Court justice be unprejudiced? That's a nice ideal but it's hardly human.

The ideal was expressed again this week by Arthur J. Goldberg, former secretary of labor who was named to the court by President Kennedy and awaits Senate approval.

He told a Senate committee: "I would regard it as my first task as a justice to be on guard lest my prejudices and predilections are erected into legal principles."

Goldberg had been a labor lawyer most of his life but severed all connections with unions even to the point of declining a pension when he became secretary.

A justice faces "no more serious task" than to put aside personal views, even those felt deeply or expressed strongly in the past, he said.

But a justice, being a human being, must have toward life and living a number of definite views which are the product of his parental background, environment, education, association and experience.

Charles G. Haines, professor of political science at the University of California, wrote 40 years ago in the Illinois Law Review:

"Free as the court has generally been from sectional influence and partisanship, like all judicial tribunals it has been subject at times to human interests and personal considerations from which it is not possible for judges, however it might be desired, to be entirely removed."

The psychological or human way—which means no justice can entirely divest himself of views and attitudes accumulated over a lifetime.

The mechanical theory was propounded by Justice David J. Brewer, who died in 1910, and Chief Justice Roger Brooke Taney who died in 1864.

Brewer thought the "meaning" of the Constitution "does not alter." The only trouble with that is that each justice, after all, must decide for himself what the Constitution means.

Taney said the Constitution had the same meaning in his day as it had from the beginning. Because he tried to argue that way he turned out the most infamous decision in American history.

This was the case of Dred Scott, a Negro slave, in 1857. His freedom was at stake. The court ruled against him with this reasoning:

That neither a slave nor his descendants are citizens under the Constitution and therefore are not entitled to the protections and benefits of citizens. This decision enlarged slavery and helped bring on the Civil War.

The verdict, 7-2 against Scott, had interesting overtones. Five of the seven—including Taney—who voted against Scott were Southerners and slave holders.

It's stretching the imagination to think they were not influenced by their background or way of life.

In 1937 the court, under President Franklin Roosevelt's prodding, began to agree the government has a responsibility for the general welfare. This has become accepted as a way of American life.

Weekly Food Review

Housewives disturbed by erratic red meat prices at supermarkets this weekend may well cry fowl. Such as turkeys, broiler-fryers or baking hens.

Poultry continues very reasonable in price.

Red meat prices are higher in many places this weekend, though some large chains report no appreciable change and several than in previous weeks.

A national chain is offering smoked hams at 29 cents a pound (shank portion) in its metropolitan New York outlets.

Also featured by a big chain is veal, with leg and rump selling at 49 cents a pound and boneless veal shoulder pegged at 69 cents.

Bacon, sausage, franks, bologna and pork butts and lamb legs and shoulders are among the meat items that have been least affected by recent price rises.

Beef and pork increases have been laid in part to market withholding by the National Farmers Organization and also to seasonal factors.

Vegetable features include beets, green onions, tomatoes, sweet corn, brussels sprouts, cabbage, eggplant, broccoli, peas and spinach. Pumpkin is becoming plentiful on the west coast. Cooler weather has reduced lettuce and green bean supplies in some places.

Fruit features include apples, honeydew melons, plums, cantaloup and nectarines. The season is starting to peak out for the peaches.

Milk prices and dairy products continue economical. Other current bargains include salad oils and frozen orange juice concentrate.

Gen. John A. Logan, commander of the Union veterans' Grand Army of the Republic, issued his Order No. 11 in 1868, setting May 30 as an annual date for "strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades. . . Whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard of the land."

Labor Day supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Reichelderfer and family were Mr. and Mrs. John Reichelderfer, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mowery and family all of Columbus.

Mrs. Florence Mowery and son Harry and Mrs. Nellie Mowery was an evening caller. All enjoyed homemade ice cream, pie, cake and coffee.

Mrs. Dora Reichelderfer of Columbus spent the weekend with her son Dick and family in our valley and all attended the Valentine family reunion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Benson-haver and family and Mrs. Mabel Childers at Lancaster.

Mrs. Nellie Mowery returned home Monday after a six weeks stay in her cottage at the Lancaster Camp meeting.

Grain, Wheat Payments Are Under Way

Final payments to farmers taking part in the 1962 wheat stabilization program are now being made throughout Pickaway County. Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee announced today.

As a means of helping farmers meet their production expenses and at the same time maintain their income, advance payments were made to many producers at the time they signified their intention of participating in the program.

Mowery reminded farmers that compliance with provisions of the diversion programs does not end with receipt of the final program payments. The land retired from production may not be grazed or a crop harvested from it through the whole year 1962, and it must be devoted to an approved conservation use, with all their program provisions being fully met.

A violation of program provisions could result in a substantial loss to the producer.

Payments under the 1962 programs are directed toward maintaining farmers' incomes during the period of adjusting production to more realistic levels. The acreage reduction continues the trend started with the 1961 feed grain program to bring about a better balance between feed grain production and needs.

Leader Fears Dixie Negroes Arming Selves

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Martin Luther King, Negro integration leader, has sent a telegram to President Kennedy expressing fear that Negroes are arming themselves in areas of recent violence in the South.

King added that he would continue to urge Negroes to be non-violent, "but I fear my counsel will fall on deaf ears if the federal government does not take decisive action."

Career Envoy Named Ambassador to Canada

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—President Kennedy has selected W. Walton Butterworth, a career diplomat from Louisiana, for U.S. ambassador to Canada.

Butterworth is U.S. representative to the European communities with the rank and status of ambassador. In Canada he will succeed Livingston T. Merchant, who has retired from the Foreign Service.

Presidents, for instance, don't pick justices without knowing something of their views. To do otherwise might mean picking a man who, once on the bench, would wreck their programs.

Presidents Washington and Adams picked none but fellow-Federalists as justices. Presidents Taft and Theodore Roosevelt looked to appoint men whose views were "right," meaning the same as their own.

Roosevelt is a classic example of presidential frustration in this field. He was greatly miffed when after appointing Oliver Wendell Holmes, the justice disappointed Roosevelt with his vote on an antitrust case.

Haines sketched out three directions for a justice to take:

The mechanical way—Haines called it a "judicial slot machine"—under which a justice is not supposed to be affected by a particular circumstance but decides entirely on legal principles.

The free legal decision way—in which a justice humanizes himself by using some discretion in applying the law. To put it another way: he is not entirely bound by legalisms.

The psychological or human way—which means no justice can entirely divest himself of views and attitudes accumulated over a lifetime.

The mechanical theory was propounded by Justice David J. Brewer, who died in 1910, and Chief Justice Roger Brooke Taney who died in 1864.

Garden Gossip

My garden may not have been exactly a success this summer, but we certainly turned out a fine crop of swimmers.

The fourth annual water pageant at the pond was a great dramatic triumph as well as a sports event.

There were 75 persons in the audience and over 50 in the cast.

Labor Day evening was sort of chilly but the swimmers shivered through their performance like real Spartans.

AT ONE point in the drama some members of the cast forgot their lines and Rita Sharrett who took the part of a Chickahominy Indian squaw retired to a teepee and came out with a script so she could prompt the forgetters.

All in all we regarded it as one of our best and most colorful pageants.

The entire cast was dressed in Indian attire. The Garrett sisters, Joy, Peggy and Jackie made necklaces of bittersweet berries.

Putting on a water pageant is an exciting occupation. There were some moments when it looked like Captain John Smith might not turn up. His part was taken by Lucien Pagerie of the East End Market. The store closed at 5 p. m. and he was out here by 5:30 starting time.

All the small fry fell quite in love with the captain. This includes my little granddaughter who took the part of Pocahontas.

We understand that Lucien's own little daughter was worried

lest the Indian captors might really "do in" the good captain.

RECENTLY the Lucien Pageries had as their guest his mother, Mrs. Marie Himmerleich of Paterson, N. J. Mrs. Himmerleich had never seen Jimson weed. She was perfectly familiar with the cultivated datura, first cousin to Jimson weed.

I promised to send her some seeds. Look what I may be starting in New Jersey!

Horticulturists make some funny mistakes during a summer's gardening.

Dr. Joe Goeller's garden took a real starching recently. Mrs. Goeller grabbed up a can of insecticide and went after some insects only to discover she had picked up the red-starch.

But Mrs. Ed Wallace topped this. She saw some fat green worms at the top of a 20-foot evergreen and went after them with the big tree pruners. When the branch with the fattest of the green worms fell she found they were cones in an early stage of development. It's an old tree and had never set cones before.

Mrs. Kenney Hannan, N. Pickaway St., interplants her roses with miniature dahlias. The dahlias give color even when the roses are not blooming.

WHISLER Presbyterians put off work for the church annual homecoming until Saturday night. The reason was that all Whisler attended Phil Enoch's wedding in Columbus Saturday morning. The flowers lasted better that way.

Mrs. Anna Temple, 456 E. Ohio St., has a fine collection of African violets.

Speaking of "African" Mrs. Paul Johnson wants to remind people that they are now known as American marigolds. After all marigolds are a native flower.

Mrs. Johnson who lives at Woodland Drive has been well pleased with her climax marigolds. Many are over four and one-half inches in diameter. But the rain last week made the big flower heads too heavy and the plants were damaged.

The Sam Cooks, 408 E. Mound St., have had lots of sport with their volunteer watermelon vine. They have watched with interest while the melons grew. For a gag, a neighbor placed a fully grown melon in a strategic position under some leaves and called Sam's attention to it. He was pleased with its appearance. Mrs. Cook then suggested that since the neighbor had found it that they give her the melon. Sam agreed.

Sam Cook is either an awfully polite guy or he was onto the trick all along. I just can't imagine a man letting his wife give away a cherished melon.

MRS. Cook thinks all this thumping business to test a melon's ripeness is the bunk. The Cooks have been thumping ever since the melons showed up.

Mrs. Fred Minshall has the most beautiful of all beautiful tuberous rooted begonias. Some are save-over tubers. Others are Murphy tubers. They are planted to the north of their old summer kitchen.

The Wayne Routers have gone through the summer with flying colors. Their roses are blooming and their window boxes are full of blossom.

Wilbur Pontius has morning glories trailing over his mail box. The morning glories embellish but do not interfere with the function of the box.

Marigolds Make Fine Show In Mrs. Wallace's Garden

Mrs. Ed Wallace's marigolds are a sight to see this year. Mrs. Wallace lives at 425 N. Court St. She moved here in 1930 and her gardening activities started that year.

The Wallace yard is bordered on one side by Hargus Creek. Enormously tall trees grow along the bank. These afford considerable shade from the south.

Big old apple trees shield the yard from the hot western sun. A wonderful magnolia and an evergreen or two are planted near the house. So it's a shady yard.

But Mrs. Wallace made a big oval bed near the house, a spot which does catch the afternoon sun. Here she planted her climax marigolds.

SHE fertilized the plants twice after they had acquired some height. She watered them well once a week. The result is a superb bed of marigolds. The biggest one (she plans to save the seed from this) would measure an easy five inches in diameter.

Mrs. Wallace has one complaint to make about climax marigolds. She says the stems are weak for their size. Because of this a rain storm can play the dickens with these excellent specimens.

So she has tied a cord around the bed. On nights that look as though a rain may be up-coming Mrs. Wallace tightens this cord. The plants with their top-heavy blooms are adequately supported by this means.

It works. Few plants were broken during the week-end rain.

Her favorite flower is the dahlia. She has a bed of big ones. The plants are eight feet high with many blossoms and buds. At the moment the marigolds highlight the garden. But Mrs. Wallace's garden has had many interesting and beautiful plants during its 30 years of existence.

Her big Japanese weeping cherry is planted in the creekbank. The Wallaces almost lost this tree a couple of winters ago. They pruned the dead branches and new growth now almost hides the lost limbs.

THIS tree is one of Circleville's loveliest spring sights.

Over the years Mrs. Wallace's garden has given her lots of pleasure. She has several varieties of iris which make a nice show. In fact from crocus time on her garden has something or other blooming.

The allium with its purple globe-like bloom may be found in the garden. This is a rare plant which more gardeners should use. It is supposed to multiply, but she has had a single bulb now for three years.

Mrs. Wallace's shady garden has some roses which do extraordinarily well. She has climbing Crimson Glory, climbing Peace (She has not had luck with this rose but recently she acquired advice from Bob Brehmer on how to prune it so it would bloom) and a pink climber named Spanish Beauty.

Blooming now beside the dahlias and marigolds is a small plant of Japanese anemone, some enormous gloriosa daisies, a few roses, a nice clump of perennial ageratum (which she says, is a nuisance) and a red hibiscus with an unusual maple-like leaf. This hibiscus looks like the southern variety but Mrs. Wallace says it is hardy.

She rarely exhibits flowers. When she found out it was considered fair to remove the spent back petals of a dahlia she became disgusted. An exhibitor will have a hard time talking her into the idea that "grooming" a plant is anything but cheating.

MRS. WALLACE is one of our favorite kinds of gardener. She does it for pleasure, pure and simple. Down the long years she's enjoyed her flowers and grown some excellent specimens which she has chosen not to show at exhibits. She's not too meticulous as to weeds. She's just a busy housewife who has taken time and had lots of fun growing and planting. She doesn't belong to a garden club.

CLIMAX OF SEASON — Mrs. Ed Wallace checks her Climax marigolds which have really climaxed a good season of gardening in the Wallace's backyard. Here she marks one of the larger blossoms which she intends to save for seed.

The fact that certain things have gotten ahead of her in the race with time has not made her love them the less. Her foundation evergreens for instance grew so big they lopped over onto the sidewalk whenever there was a big snow storm. Now she has replaced them with neat tidy new evergreens but she admits she misses her old ones. "I just loved 'em" she said.

And the weeping willow had to go. It was shattered by each big storm that came along and it had troublesome insects about this time every year. And though she loved it and it was a beautiful for years she does not advise anybody to grow a weeping willow.

The pleasure-loving gardener has three night blooming cereus. One has four buds on it. She enticed a grandson into moving the heavy pot into the house where she can watch the bloom. Last year because it was in the yard she missed it.

A night blooming cereus is often a mangy looking plant, nice only at bloom time. Hers is a fine specimen with good foliage and a nice shape. She says she puts it in the cellar each winter and waters it sparingly.

She said it was now on the first leg of its journey back to the cellar. The men folks are not too cooperative about moving her heavy cereus plants. She figures it'll be easier to move from the living room to the cellar than from the yard.

Mrs. Wallace is the main gardener at 425 N. Court St., and this she admits is her own fault. The third year they lived at their present home she was proud of her hibiscus bushes which had bloomed profusely during the summer.

ED WALLACE decided to clean off the creek bank where the hibiscus were planted. Mrs. Wallace saw him flailing at her hibiscus with the mattock and yelled, "What are you doing?"

He went on with his demolition work without looking up but he called out, "I'm getting rid of the weeds for you."

He was so crestfallen to find out his mistake that he's left the gardening up to Mrs. Wallace ever since.

Local Exhibitor Uses Posies Straight from Her Garden

Mrs. Turney Pontius, Route 4, Circleville admits to being stingy with flowers at show time.

She says she sees no reason to pick every flower in the garden just because there's a flower show.

She says she plans her arrangement, then picks the flowers she thinks she will need.

"Supposing," she was asked, "you found you had not picked enough flowers. Then what would you do?"

"I'D GO back into the garden and pick some more," was her reply.

"Then the flowers would not be hardened like the others," she countered.

"Shucks," said Mrs. Pontius whose arrangements are known for the "fresh beauty. "I never bother hardening my flowers any way."

Mrs. Pontius does, however, make her arrangements the day before the show so the flowers have a chance to "harden" in the arrangement. She often packs her arrangements and places them in her car the night before the flower show.

But we considered this an amusing confession from an exhibitor who never was known to have a faded flower in an arrangement.

We don't advise it, mind you. We are a firm believer in "hardening" you just might not have Mrs. Pontius's good luck.

And incidentally, if your own garden is "hurting" from a flower shortage, there's nobody more generous than Mrs. Pontius at show time — even if she does claim to be stingy with her flowers.

Use Found For Japonica

Bush of Mrs. Long Is Fruiting Again

Mrs. Blanche Long of Kingston sent two apple-sized Japanese quinces. Her bush is fruiting again this year.

According to an amusing account by Mrs. Long, her bush "lived the normal life of a Japonica for 20 years. Then three years ago it took a sudden and unexpected spurt and bore apples."

Mrs. Long found to her surprise that many people have Japonica bushes which bear fruit. One person told her to place the fruit in her dresser drawer for a nice, faint spicy odor.

She says this is true. She tried it. The quince became as hard as a stone but it does indeed leave a delightful fruity odor.

SHE also enclosed some rose hips, quite large, which she says grew on a beautiful single (five petaled) rose.

The petals are deep pink on the outer portion and white in the center. Mrs. Long would like the rose identified. It was given to her years ago by an old lady who did not know its name.

Mrs. Long has given it a name and an appropriate one. She calls it "Star of Bethlehem Rose".

In a paper recently published by the Smithsonian Institution, Coleman J. Goin, professor of biological sciences at the University of Florida, theorized that amphibians are trying to eliminate open water as a habitat for their spawn.

Garden Gossip

My garden may not have been exactly a success this summer, but we certainly turned out a fine crop of swimmers.

The fourth annual water pageant at the pond was a great dramatic triumph as well as a sports event.

There were 75 persons in the audience and over 50 in the cast.

Labor Day evening was sort of chilly but the swimmers shivered through their performance like real Spartans.

AT ONE point in the drama some members of the cast forgot their lines and Rita Sharrett who took the part of a Chickahominy Indian squaw retired to a teepee and came out with a script so she could prompt the forgetters.

All in all we regarded it as one of our best and most colorful of pageants.

The entire cast was dressed in Indian attire. The Garrett sisters, Joy, Peggy and Jackie made necklaces of bittersweet berries.

Putting on a water pageant is an exciting occupation. There were some moments when it looked like Captain John Smith might not turn up. His part was taken by Lucien Pagerie of the East End Market. The store closed at 5 p. m. and he was out here by 5:30 starting time.

All the small fry fell quite in love with the captain. This includes my little granddaughter who took the part of Pocahontas.

We understand that Lucien's own little daughter was worried

Plant Winter Aconite, Lilies Immediately

Delay in planting material that arrives from a nursery is indeed poor practice.

And far be it from the garden editor to tell you to take your time about getting the plant material into the ground.

But the truth of the matter is that nursery material well prepared for its journey in the mail can remain unplanted for several days without real damage. Only a shiftless gardener will ever allow this delay to take place.

But most plant material will live anyway. There are two things, however, that must be planted immediately, bulbs of the winter aconite and lilies.

WINTER aconite is a darling early spring flower. Beats the crocus coming up! It's all too rare in our early spring gardens.

Do order a few of these inexpensive bulbs. But they are said to be worthless if not planted immediately. If all the bulb merchants take time to warn you in their catalogues about the immediate planting of winter aconite you'd better pay heed.

And I can say for certain it's true about lilies. Do not leave the bulbs out of the ground for too long after you purchase them from your nursery.

Daffodil planting in September and early October is frequently advised by the experts. Do not disregard this advice.

But if you are too busy to plant your daffodils at this time the chances are they will be fine anyway.

And you can be quite careless about getting your tulips out. Iris rhizomes may kick around all summer and still do well.

But remember with winter aconite and lilies do not delay!

lest the Indian captors might really "do in" the good captain.

RECENTLY the Lucien Pagerie had as their guest his mother, Mrs. Marie Himmerleich of Patterson, N. J. Mrs. Himmerleich had never seen Jimson weed. She was perfectly familiar with the cultivated datura, first cousin to Jimson weed.

I promised to send her some seeds. Look what I may be starting in New Jersey!

Horticulturists make some funny mistakes during a summer's gardening.

Dr. Joe Goeller's garden took a real startling recently. Mrs. Goeller grabbed up a can of insecticide and went after some insects only to discover she had picked up the red-starch.

But Mrs. Ed Wallace topped this. She saw some fat green worms at the top of a 20-foot evergreen and went after them with the big tree pruner. When the branch with the fattest of the green worms fell she found they were cones in an early stage of development. It's an old tree and had never set cones before.

Mrs. Kenney Hannan, N. Pickaway St., interplants her roses with miniature dahlias. The dahlias give color even when the roses are not blooming.

WHISLER Presbyterians put off work for the church annual homecoming until Saturday night. The reason was that all Whisler attended Phil Enoch's wedding in Columbus Saturday morning. The flowers lasted better that way.

Mrs. Anna Temple, 456 E. Ohio St., has a fine collection of African violets.

Speaking of "African" Mrs. Paul Johnson wants to remind people that they are now known as American marigolds. After all marigolds are a native flower.

Mrs. Johnson who lives at Woodland Drive has been well pleased with her climax marigolds. Many are over four and one-half inches in diameter. But the rain last week made the big flower heads too heavy and the plants were damaged.

The Sam Cooks, 408 E. Mound St., have had lots of sport with their volunteer watermelon vine. They have watched with interest while the melons grew. For a gag, a neighbor placed a fully grown melon in a strategic position under some leaves and called Sam's attention to it. He was pleased with its appearance. Mrs. Cook then suggested that since the neighbor had found it that they give her the melon. Sam agreed.

Sam Cook is either an awfully polite guy or he was onto the trick all along. I just can't imagine a man letting his wife give away a cherished melon.

MRS. Cook thinks all this thumping business to test a melon's ripeness is the bunk. The Cooks have been thumping ever since the melons showed up.

Mrs. Fred Minshall has the most beautiful of all beautiful tuberous rooted begonias. Some are save-over tubers. Others are Murphy tubers. They are planted to the north of their old summer kitchen.

The Wayne Routts have gone through the summer with flying colors. Their roses are blooming and their window boxes are full of blossom.

Wilbur Pontius has morning glories trailing over his mail box. The morning glories embellish but do not interfere with the function of the box.

Marigolds Make Fine Show In Mrs. Wallace's Garden

Mrs. Ed Wallace's marigolds are a sight to see this year. Mrs. Wallace lives at 425 N. Court St. She moved here in 1930 and her gardening activities started that year.

The Wallace yard is bordered on one side by Hargus Creek. Enormously tall trees grow along the bank. These afford considerable shade from the south.

Big old apple trees shield the yard from the hot western sun. A wonderful magnolia and an evergreen or two are planted near the house. So it's a shady yard.

But Mrs. Wallace made a big oval bed near the house, a spot which does catch the afternoon sun. Here she planted her climax marigolds.

SHE fertilized the plants twice after they had acquired some height. She watered them well once a week. The result is a superb bed of marigolds. The biggest one (she plans to save the seed from this) would measure an easy five inches in diameter.

Mrs. Wallace has one complaint to make about climax marigolds. She says the stems are weak for their size. Because of this a rain storm can play the dickens with these excellent specimens.

So she has tied a cord around the bed. On nights that look as though a rain may be up-coming Mrs. Wallace tightens this cord. The plants with their top-heavy blooms are adequately supported by this means.

It works. Few plants were broken during the week-end rain.

Her favorite flower is the dahlia. She has a bed of big ones. The plants are eight feet high with many blossoms and buds. At the moment the marigolds highlight the garden. But Mrs. Wallace's garden has had many interesting and beautiful plants during its 30 years of existence.

Her big Japanese weeping cherry is planted in the creekbank. The Wallaces almost lost this tree a couple of winters ago. They pruned the dead branches and new growth now almost hides the lost limbs.

THIS tree is one of Circleville's loveliest spring sights.

Over the years Mrs. Wallace's garden has given her lots of pleasure. She has several varieties of iris which make a nice show. In fact from crocus time on her garden has something or other blooming.

The allium with its purple globe-like bloom may be found in the garden. This is a rare plant which more gardeners should use. It is supposed to multiply, but she has had a single bulb now for three years.

Mrs. Wallace's shady garden has some roses which do extraordinarily well. She has climbing Crimson Glory, climbing Peace (She has not had luck with this rose but recently she acquired advice from Bob Brehrer on how to prune it so it would bloom) and a pink climber named Spanish Beauty.

Blooming now beside the dahlias and marigolds is a small plant of Japanese anemone, some enormous gloriosa daisies, a few roses, a nice clump of perennial ageratum (which she says, is a nuisance) and a red hibiscus with an unusual maple-like leaf. This hibiscus looks like the southern variety but Mrs. Wallace says it is hardy.

She rarely exhibits flowers. When she found out it was considered fair to remove the spent back petals of a dahlia she became disgusted. An exhibitor will have a hard time talking her into the idea that "grooming" a plant is anything but cheating.

MRS. WALLACE is one of our favorite kinds of gardener. She does it for pleasure, pure and simple. Down the long years she's enjoyed her flowers and grown some excellent specimens which she has chosen not to show at exhibits. She's not too meticulous as to weeds. She's just a busy housewife who has taken time and had lots of fun growing and planting. She doesn't belong to a garden club.

CLIMAX OF SEASON — Mrs. Ed Wallace checks her Climax marigolds which have really climaxed a good season of gardening in the Wallace's backyard. Here she marks one of the larger blossoms which she intends to save for seed.

The fact that certain things have gotten ahead of her in the race with time has not made her love them the less. Her foundation evergreens for instance grew so big they lopped over onto the sidewalk whenever there was a big snow storm. Now she has replaced them with neat tidy new evergreens but she admits she misses her old ones. "I just loved 'em" she said.

And the weeping willow had to go. It was shattered by each big storm that came along and it had troublesome insects about this time every year. And though she loved it and it was a beautiful for years she does not advise anybody to grow a weeping willow.

The pleasure-loving gardener has three night blooming cereus. One has four buds on it. She enticed a grandson into moving the heavy pot into the house where she can watch the bloom. Last year because it was in the yard she missed it.

A night blooming cereus is often a mangy looking plant, nice only at bloom time. Hers is a fine specimen with good foliage and a nice shape. She says she puts it in the cellar each winter and waters it sparingly.

She said it was now on the first leg of its journey back to the cellar. The men folks are not too cooperative about moving her heavy cereus plants. She figures it'll be easier to move from the living room to the cellar than from the yard.

Mrs. Wallace is the main gardener at 425 N. Court St., and this she admits is her own fault. The third year they lived at their present home she was proud of her hibiscus bushes which had bloomed profusely during the summer.

ED WALLACE decided to clean off the creek bank where the hibiscus were planted. Mrs. Wallace was planted. Mrs. Wallace saw him flailing at her hibiscus with the mattock and yelled, "What are you doing?"

He went on with his demolition work without looking up but he called out, "I'm getting rid of the weeds for you."

He was so crestfallen to find out his mistake that he's left the gardening up to Mrs. Wallace ever since.

Ohio Chapter Is Growing

Nature Conservancy Has 600 Members

David W. Swetland, chairman, Ohio Chapter, Nature Conservancy had the following to say about his organization in the chapter annual report:

"In its brief life of four years, the Ohio Chapter of Nature Conservancy has shown a remarkable vigor.

It has grown from one hundred members at the time of organization to well over six hundred at this time.

A number of projects have been successfully undertaken in the race to preserve natural areas against the depredation of man—Buzsardroost Rock—Lynn Prairie—Dysart Woods and Mentor Marsh to name a few.

Efforts to locate other areas worthy of preservation have resulted in a large backlog of projects that is before us now and challenges us for action this coming year.

With our ever increasing membership, and the growing consciousness of many of the need for prompt and substantial support to preserve some of our vanishing natural areas, we have the basic ingredients necessary to do a successful job."

Mrs. Ruth N. McCammon is chairman of the Membership committee of the Ohio Chapter of Nature Conservancy. Her address is 3617 Aikenside Ave., Cincinnati 13.

OLD FAVORITE — Mrs. R. O. Backhouse is one of the first pink daffodils to make an appearance in American gardens. It was named on the list of 1962 International Holland Bulb Selections. It is found in many Pickaway County Gardens.

List of 'Most Admired' Dutch Bulbs Published

The Associated Bulb Growers of Holland annually publish a list of internationally "most admired varieties" of tulips, hyacinths and other Spring-flowering bulbs.

The selection is made by an international jury of experts based on a poll of Springtime visitors to the famous Keukenhof Gardens near the town of Lisse in the heart of Holland's bulb growing district.

The 1962 Selections list eight tulips, one hyacinth and one daffodil. These varieties are:

Tulips—Triumph, Aureola, Darwin, Golden Age, Darwin Hybrid, Oxford, Cottage, Artist, Double Late, Mount Tacoma, Lily-flowered, Red Shine, Parrot, Karel Doorman, Fosteriana, Purissima;

Alums Who Don't Forget
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The alumni of St. Louis University's medical school are apparently a grateful lot.

Try To Gain Some Plants This Fall

Stern's Nursery in Geneva, N.Y. has an autumn catalogue with these words, "Gain a Plant this Autumn". And a good thought it is.

Many gardeners are lazy fellows and they'll put off to spring what can better be accomplished now. Gaining new plants this fall will be that much less to do come spring.

Gardeners are fairly well used to the idea of bulb planting in the autumn. Winter is ahead to create a deadline. But with plants and trees it's a bit different.

Two very important flowers that should be planted now are peonies and oriental poppies. This is nature's time as far as these plants are concerned.

IF THEY are offered to you in the spring they will likely be cold storage plants. They can be spring planted. But why wait!

Practically anything may be fall planted, even roses. If you order something like Japanese anemones (fall planting of this lovely plant is not recommended) a reputable nursery will hold your order until spring.

If you order only one plant you'll acquire a collection over the years that you'll be proud of in time.

Often August is hot and dry. Water your newly acquired plants by hand until the fall rains start.

Spraying Suggested For Grasshoppers

If grasshoppers have been bothering you, spray with malathion.

If the first application does not rid you of the pests do it again in about five days says George Hamrick, Pickaway County Extension agent.

Grasshoppers have been both numerous and destructive the last week or two.

Chlordane is also recommended for grasshopper riddance. The pests are capable of causing considerable damage in a very short time.

Cultural Center Model Is Unveiled

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy declared the dream "much closer to reality" as she officially unveiled the gleaming white model of a proposed $30-million national cultural center for Washington.

She said people from all over the country, who come to Washington as tourists, will profit by this marble and glass center for the arts on the banks of the Potomac.

The design, by famed Arkansas-born architect Edward Durrell Stone, made its debut Tuesday amid the ballroom splendor of the "The Elms," a coal magnate's mansion now a museum and relic of a bygone era of Newport society.

Because Mrs. Kennedy, honorary cochairman of the center, is on an extended vacation here, the trustees, an advisory committee, backers and artists—some 300 strong—made the trek to off season Newport.

They came from 35 cities across the country for their first meeting, to see Mrs. Kennedy, the center model and the sights of Newport.

port. They heard Stone predict the center would be built by late 1965 or early 1966.

In a brief teatime appearance at "The Elms," Mrs. Kennedy told them it would be wonderful if the center could become a reality by a clap of the hands, but "the heroic task" of raising the $30 million would be theirs.

The fund-raisers planned to start with a two-hour closed circuit television extravaganza Nov. 29, with admission fees to go to the center and local cultural projects.

Comedian Danny Kaye, actress Geraldine Page and Boston Symphony conductor Erich Leinsdorf voiced high hopes for the center and viewed it as a symbol of Washington's commitment to things of the spirit as well as things political.

President and Mrs. Kennedy had a long preview look at the center model here on Sunday and officials said both approved Stone's concept of the center in a 13-acre river front park setting.

They said Kennedy wanted to make sure it would not detract

Tulips—Triumph, Aureola, Darwin, Golden Age, Darwin Hybrid, Oxford, Cottage Artist, Double Late, Mount Tacoma, Lily-flowered, Red Shine, Parrot, Karel Doorman, Fosteriana, Purissima;

Hyacinth — Carnegie; Daffodil — Mrs. R. O. Backhouse.

The International Holland Bulb Selections are not a listing of new varieties as such, although some outstanding new varieties do at times gain a position on the list. The most popular varieties usually prove to be those that have established a hold on the affections of gardeners through a period of many years.

Spraying Suggested For Grasshoppers

If grasshoppers have been bothering you, spray with malathion. If the first application does not rid you of the pests do it again in about five days says George Hamrick, Pickaway County Extension agent.

Grasshoppers have been both numerous and destructive the last week or two.

Chlordane is also recommended for grasshopper riddance. The pests are capable of causing considerable damage in a very short time.

Alums Who Don't Forget

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The alumni of St. Louis University's medical school are apparently a grateful lot.

The Journal of the American Medical Association reports that alumni contributions to the medical school in 1961 were the highest among the 86 medical schools in the nation.

Try To Gain Some Plants This Fall

Stern's Nursery in Geneva, N.Y. has an autumn catalogue with these words, "Gain a Plant this Autumn". And a good thought it is.

Many gardeners are lazy fellows and they'll put off to spring what can better be accomplished now. Gaining new plants this fall will be that much less to do come spring.

Gardeners are fairly well used to the idea of bulb planting in the autumn. Winter is ahead to create a deadline. But with plants and tree's it's a bit different.

Two very important flowers that should be planted now are peonies and oriental poppies. This is nature's time as far as these plants are concerned.

IF THEY are offered to you in the spring they will likely be cold storage plants. They can be spring planted. But why wait!

Practically anything may be fall planted, even roses. If you order something like Japanese anemones (fall planting of this lovely plant is not recommended) a reputable nursery will hold your order until spring.

If you order only one plant you'll acquire a collection over the years that you'll be proud of in time.

Often August is hot and dry. Water your newly acquired plants by hand until the fall rains start.

Cultural Center Model Is Unveiled

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy declared the dream "much closer to reality" as she officially unveiled the gleaming white model of a proposed $30-million national cultural center for Washington.

She said people from all over the country, who come to Washington as tourists, will profit by this marble and glass center for the arts on the banks of the Potomac.

The design, by famed Arkansas-born architect Edward Durrell Stone, made its debut Tuesday amid the ballroom splendor of the "The Elms," a coal magnate's mansion now a museum and relic of a bygone era of Newport society.

Because Mrs. Kennedy, honorary co-chairman of the center, is on an extended vacation here, the trustees, an advisory committee, backers and artists—some 300 strong—made the trek to off-season Newport.

They came from 35 cities across the country for their first meeting, to see Mrs. Kennedy, the center model and the sights of Newport.

They heard Stone predict the center would be built by late 1965 or early 1966.

In a brief teatime appearance at "The Elms," Mrs. Kennedy told them it would be wonderful if the center could become a reality by a clap of the hands, but "the heroic task" of raising the $30 million would be theirs.

The fund-raisers planned to start with a two-hour closed circuit television extravaganza Nov. 29, with admission fees to go to the center and local cultural projects.

Comedian Danny Kaye, actress Geraldine Page and Boston Symphony conductor Erich Leinsdorf voiced high hopes for the center and viewed it as a symbol of Washington's commitment to things of the spirit as well as things political.

President and Mrs. Kennedy had a long preview look at the center model here on Sunday and officials said both approved Stone's concept of the center in a 13-acre river front park setting. They said Kennedy wanted to make sure it would not detract

Open House Set for New Fayette School

An open invitation to Pickaway County school personnel and area residents was received today for an Open House event to be staged in the new Miami Trace High School in Fayette County.

The open house is set Sept. 23, from noon until 6 p. m. The school is located about three miles northwest of Washington C. H. on Route 41-N.

The new educational facility is the first high school in Ohio to be completed in a county with total consolidation of all Local Districts. The building itself contains some unique features which will be of interest to many. Guided tours will be conducted throughout the afternoon.

A lunch menu will be available in the school cafeteria during the open house under the sponsorship of the MT Athletic Boosters Club. Roger O. Hoffman, superintendent of Fayette County schools, has extended an invitation to all interested persons to attend the open house.

Jackson PTS Holds Meeting

The Jackson - Muhlenberg Parent Teacher Society held its first meeting of the new school year Monday evening in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. George Neff, president, officiated during the business session.

The Rev. Clyde N. Rogers was the guest speaker. He told of his travels to the Middle East and Korea and supplemented his talk with colored slides taken abroad.

Following Rev. Rogers' talk, Hillis Hall reported that his group of FFA boys had contributed to needy people of other lands for the past five years.

Teachers present were introduced and a reception for them was held at the close of the meeting.

Georgians Elect Sanders Governor

ATLANTA (AP)—Carl E. Sanders, a bold young man who entered the race last April while veteran politicians scoffed, has won the governorship of Georgia.

Business Briefs

Larry L. Jacobs has been appointed as the new State Farm Insurance representative in Pickaway County.

Jacobs hails from Newark where he was graduated from high school. He is a graduate of Palmer College and attended Ohio State University for advanced study.

The new State Farm representative served three years with the U. S. Army Medical Corps, with two years of duty in Europe and Germany. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Jacobs, his wife, Jacqueline and son Lou Michael, 4 months, will live at 458 E. Main St. Hobbies include all sports, especially little league baseball and football and rifle competition.

The amount of money refunded to the estates of deceased members of South - Central Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., is fast approaching the $50,000 mark, according to A. E. Aebersold, comptroller.

Figures just released show that payments at the end of 1961 totaled $41,598.86. According to Aebersold, the amount of repayment for the first six months of 1962 approximates $8,000 — which should mean that the $50,000 figure will be surpassed by the end of 1962.

Capital credit payments reflect the amount of individual ownership in the cooperative.

SCIOTO VALLEY GRANGE
Worthy Master H. A. Bumgarner presided at the Tuesday meeting of the Scioto Valley Grange.

A financial report was read by John Dwyer, treasurer of the building fund showing the net receipts from the card party held September 8 at the 4-H and Grange Building at the fairgrounds. A committee from the Scioto Valley Grange served.

The officers elected for the coming year were:

H. A. Bumgarner, master, John Miller, overseer; Gladys Vause, lecturer; Chester Fausnaugh, steward; Taylor Lutz, assistant steward; Nellie Bumgarner, chaplain; Harold Fisher, treasurer; Cleona Dunnick; John Swingle, gatekeeper; Louise Fisher, cress; Lula Kuhlwein, pomona; Clara Creager, flora; Virginia Fausnaugh, lady assistant steward; Leona Berger, pianist; Lawrence Hoover, executive committeeman. The date for the installation of officers was set for October 9.

Chinese Troops 'in Vicinity' of Indian Frontier Outposts

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government said today Red Chinese troops have "appeared in the vicinity" of an Indian outpost on the disputed northeast frontier but said "there has been no clash."

Unofficial but reliable sources said an estimated 300 Chinese soldiers invaded Indian territory Tuesday and surrounded a post a mile inside the Himalayan border manned by 30 men of the Assam Rifles.

There was no indication of any fighting. One unconfirmed report from the northeast said the Chinese disarmed the Indian troops and advanced nine miles farther into India.

A spokesman for the foreign ministry announced:

"Some Chinese forces have appeared in the vicinity of one of our posts in the area of the tri-junction of Bhutan, the Northeast Frontier Agency and Tibet. There has been no clash."

Conflicting unofficial reports indicated the Chinese might be pressing toward Towang, an important Buddhist monastery town 15 miles inside the border. Three years ago the Dalai Lama, fleeing from the Red Chinese across the 14,210-mile-high pass from Tibet, made a stopover at Towang.

The Chinese Communists claim the Northeast Frontier Agency's 36,000 square miles—a mountainous, largely unsettled area—be-long to Tibet. India maintains the border is the McMahon line, drawn by the British along the peaks of the Himalayas.

The Chinese also claim 12,000 square miles of Ladakh, a bleak and barren plateau near the western end of the Chinese-Indian border. There have been at least four skirmishes there this summer. Ladakh on Indian maps is part of the state of Kashmir.

Chinese troops have entered the Northeast Frontier Agency seven times in the past six years but withdrawn each time. Three incursions were in the same area just east of the mountain state of Bhutan where the Chinese entered Tuesday.

Ohio River Fishermen's Bandits Held

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Fishermen on both sides of the Ohio River in the Ironton, Ohio-Huntington, W. Va. area may be able to go angling with a little more peace of mind from now on.

Lawrence County Sheriff Carl E. Rose and his deputies have rounded up four youths and piles of loot from some 50 breaking and enterings of homes, boat clubs and automobiles. Most of the action, the sheriff reported, was at the expense of fishermen.

Officers, fresh from bringing in two cruiser loads of assorted stolen goods, said there still was the badge and mace of the Proctorville chief of police whose cruiser was raided.

In custody are Robert G. Edwards, 20; Tom Carpenter, 18, and two juvenile boys, age 16 and 15. Rose planned to file charges against them today. He said Edwards, caught last week as he and a 10-year-old boy filched $50 from the car of a fisherman and sentenced to jail, admitted the dozens of thefts in the past year and implicated the others.

Best Place To Find Movie Stars Is in Sports Arena

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You don't have to spend $3.50 for a Hollywood bus tour ticket to find a motion picture star.

With so many of the studios making movies overseas, it's difficult to see stars at work. And if you look around the famed landmarks of Hollywood and Vine and the Sunset Strip, you'll have to look hard and long to find a familiar face.

So next time you're in town, throw away that map of movie stars' homes and try this for a guide: go out for sports.

Chavez Ravine—the baseball park—has become the biggest gathering place for celebrities since the heyday of the big fights at Hollywood Legion Stadium. On a good night, watching the Los Angeles Dodgers or the Angels, you'll find Doris Day, Milton Berle, Dinah Shore or Danny Thomas.

During football season, try Memorial Coliseum. Jane Russell frequently roots from the sidelines for the Los Angeles Rams. Her husband is Ram Coach Bob Waterfield.

If there's a pro-celebrity golf tournament around town, you're likely to find Bob Hope, George Gobel, Fred MacMurray, Gordon MacRae, Robert Sterling, Jerry Lewis, or James Garner.

When there's a good boxing match, Hugh O'Brian, Jose Ferrer or Jack Lemmon may be at ringside.

With Ciro's now a twist club and the old Macombo leveled to make way for a new Playboy club, it's not often you'll spot a big-name actor along the Sunset Strip—except for Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin. Each owns a restaurant on the strip.

If you're a member of the fashion-conscious female sex and desire to have George Masters do your hair at Saks Fifth Avenue, you're likely to run into Polly Bergen, Dinah Shore or Jennifer Jones.

If you want to get out of the city, there's always Palm Springs. Mexico is becoming increasingly popular. Dana Wynter and Greg Bautzer winter at the Hotel Pierre Marquee in Acapulco. Brett Halsey sometimes has Debbie Power Loew as his guest in Puerto Vallarta. Bing Crosby has a hideaway in Baja California.

And there's always the beach at Santa Monica. Peter Lawford drew a crowd the other day when his brother-in-law dropped by.

Medics Fixes Tigress' Ingrown Nails

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a routine day for Dr. Charles P. Gandal. He treated a patient for two ingrown toenails. The only thing is, the patient was a 420-pound tigress.

Gandal is the veterinarian of the Bronx Zoo. His patient—Dacca, by name—was having trouble walking.

The old girl is 18 years old now and not very active, so her claws have not been wearing down the way they normally would. Gandal, an observant physician, noted that two of Dacca's nails had curved back and grown into her pads.

So, accompanied by four aides, the veterinarian went into Dacca's cage Tuesday to give her a pedicure. To calm the tigress, he shot her with an "injection gun"—a device that shoots a syringe into an animal.

The syringe in this case contained a muscle paralyzer, sort of a tranquilizer for nonhumans. Within minutes, Dacca lay back ready for the delicate work on her claws.

Gandal, using bone cutters instead of nail clippers, snipped off an inch and a half of each claw, treated the cut pads with an antibiotic and left the cage calmly.

"It all went off very nicely," he said, with no more nervousness than if he had been toying with a tomcat.

But then, Gandal has gotten used to this sort of thing. He has been with the zoo for nearly 11 years, and his patients include elephants, snakes, alligators and a variety of other creatures who sometimes need help, just the way humans do.

The doctor was asked if he wasn't concerned now and again that his patients might get a bit ruffled and resent his ministrations in some physical way.

"Oh, no," Gandal said. "The animals know I'm there to help them. And besides, we take all sorts of precautions. Actually, we are about as safe as people who handle dogs and cats."

Ohio River Fishermen's Bandits Held

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Fishermen on both sides of the Ohio River in the Ironton, Ohio-Huntington, W. Va. area may be able to go angling with a little more peace of mind from now on.

Lawrence County Sheriff Carl E. Rose and his deputies have rounded up four youths and piles of loot from some 50 breaking and enterings of homes, boat clubs and automobiles. Most of the action, the sheriff reported, was at the expense of fishermen.

Officers, fresh from bringing in two cruiser loads of assorted stolen goods, said there still was the badge and mace of the Proctorville chief of police whose cruiser was raided.

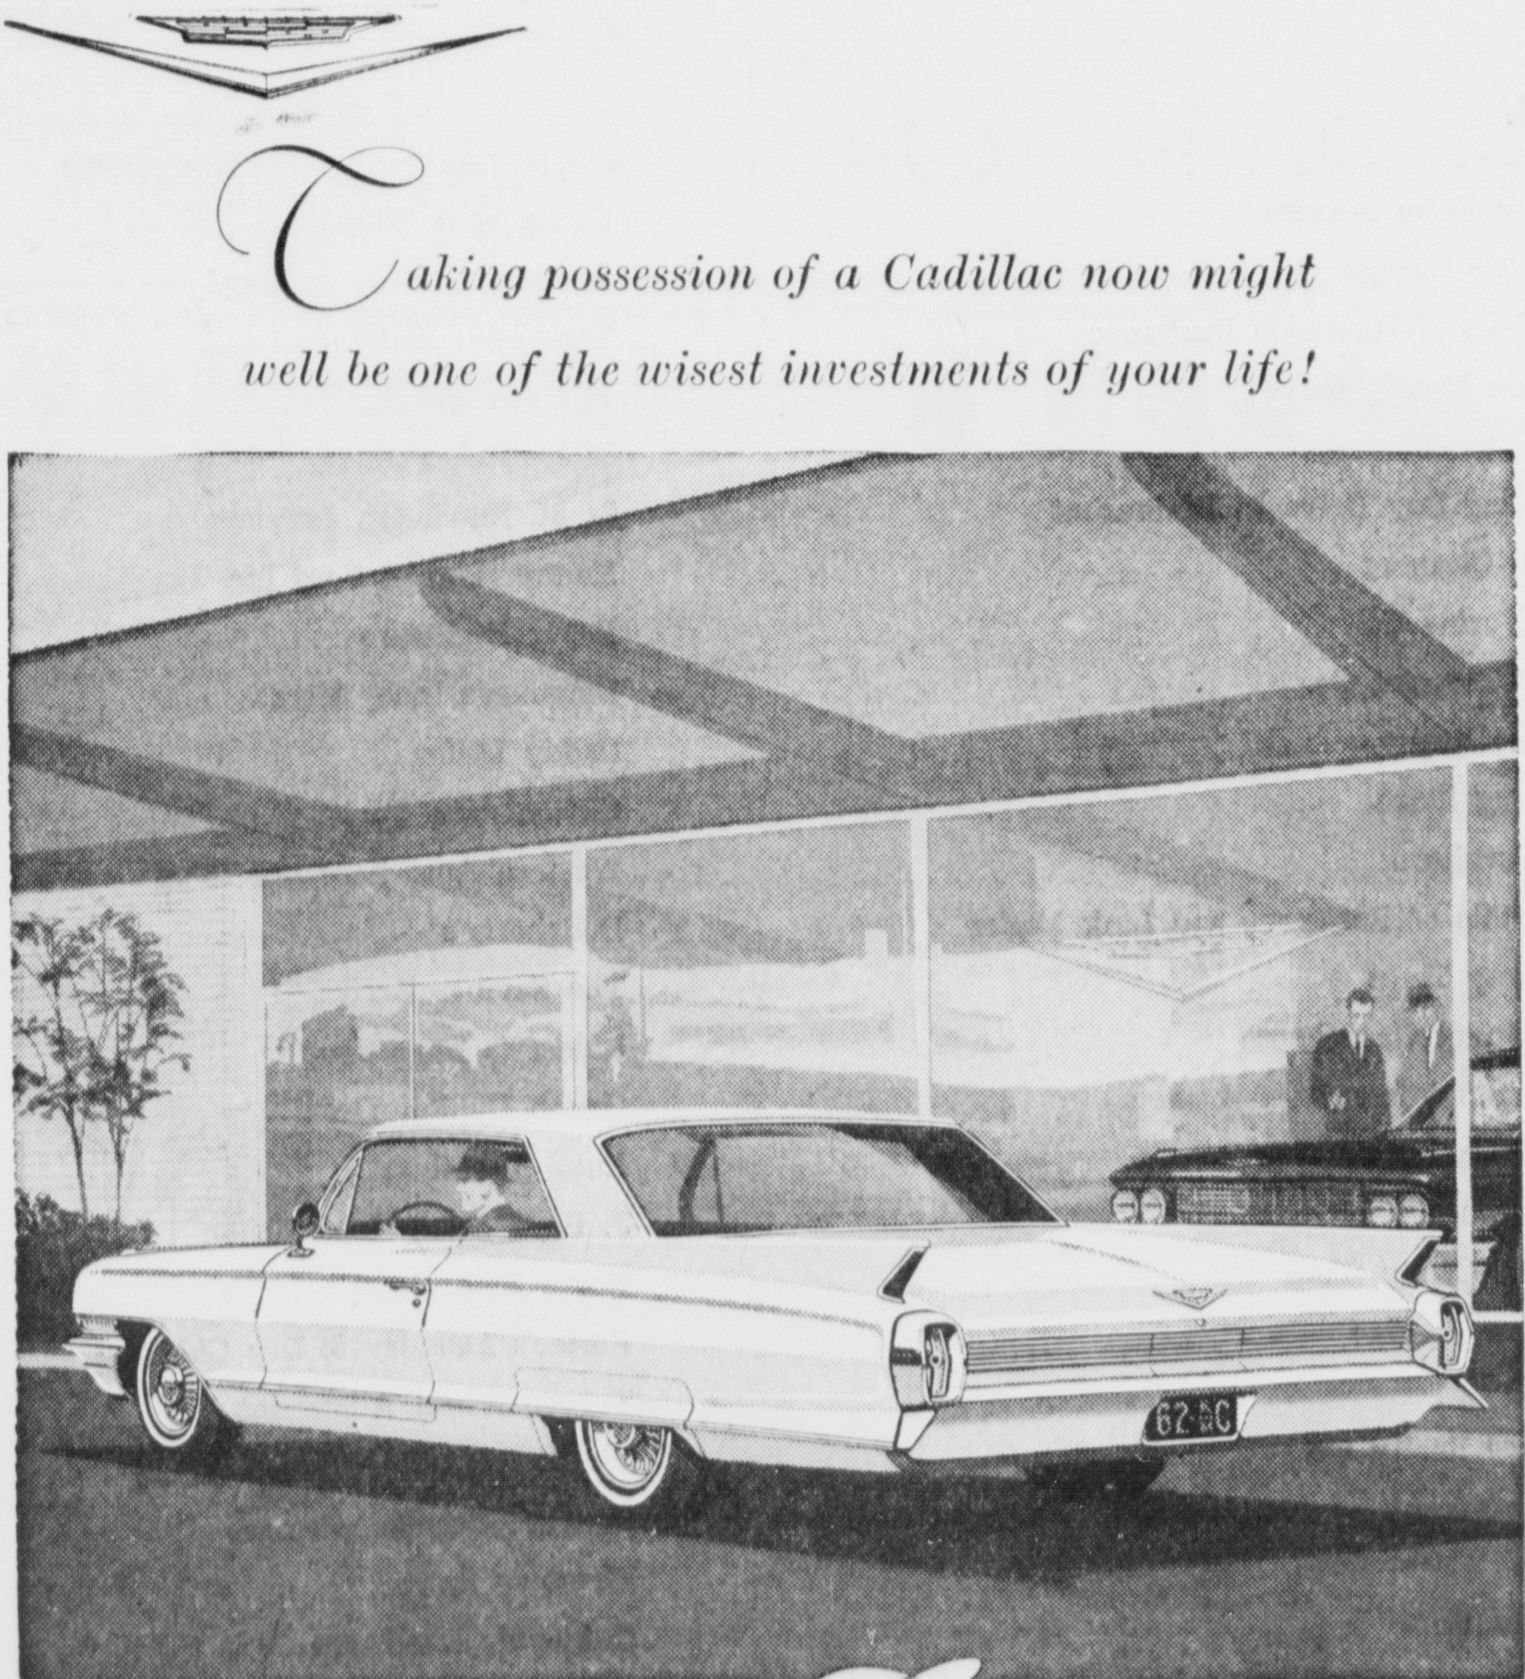

In custody are Robert G. Edwards, 20; Tom Carpenter, 18, and two juvenile boys, age 16 and 15. Rose planned to file charges against them today. He said Edwards, caught last week as he and a 10-year-old boy filched $50 from the car of a fisherman and sentenced to jail, admitted the dozens of thefts in the past year and implicated the others.

Senators' Cheney Fans 21 To Score Strikeout Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
As the American League pennant scramble reaches its climax, the least likely team you'd expect to hear from is Washington, but 21 strikeouts by the Senators' Tom Cheney has grabbed the spotlight from the contenders.

Cheney, 27, a right-hander who has labored sporadically and unspectacularly in five previous major league campaigns, sent up his salute Wednesday night, striking out 21 batters in 16 innings for a major league one game record en route to a 2-1 victory over Baltimore.

Meanwhile, it began to look like taps-blowing time for New York's pursuers in the pennant race. The Yankees ballooned their bulge as Mickey Mantle hit a three-run homer and powered the defending world champions to a 5-2 decision over Cleveland.

The second place Los Angeles Angels lost to Kansas City 4-1 and fell five games back while third-place Minnesota bowed to the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 12 innings and dropped 5 1/2 lengths off the pace.

That left the Yanks' magic pennant-clinching number at 10. Any combination of 10 New York victories and/or Los Angeles defeats will give the Yankees their 12th pennant in 14 years.

In the other AL games Wednesday, Boston swept a doubleheader from Detroit 8-6 and 6-2.

In the National League, the first place Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 1-0 and increased their edge to 1 1/2 games over second-place San Francisco, a 4-1 loser to third-place Cincinnati. Milwaukee blanked Philadelphia 9-0 in the only other contest scheduled.

Mantle's homer off Pedro Ramos put the Yankees ahead 4-2 in the fifth inning after the Indians had moved out front on Chuck Essegian's two-run homer in the fourth.

The A's rode a four-hitter by Orlando Pena (4-3) to their victory over the Angels, Los Angeles lone run coming when Lee Thomas homered in the ninth inning. Kansas City tagged almost-teammate Bo Belinsky (9-10) with the loss.

Sherm Lollar stroked a two out single in the 12th, scoring Al Smith with the winning run for the White Sox as they handed the Twins their fourth consecutive setback.

Rocky Colavito hit homers Nos. 34 and 35 and Norm Cash tagged his 35th for the Tigers in the opener, but the Red Sox won it for Dick Radatz (9-5) on Ed Bresnold's three-run homer in the ninth. A three-run homer by Frank Malzone provided the Red Sox with the nightcap triumph.

Wildcat Gridders To Open against New Lexington

The Laureville High School football team opens its 1962 season tomorrow, hosting New Lexington St. Aloisius.

Laureville Wildcat's home games will be played on the Logan Elm football field.

The Wildcats will field an experienced line but they lack letterman in the backfield, according to Coach Tom Baker.

Their 1961 record was 1-5-1.

High School Grid Picture Confused

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's scholastic football season is off to an enthusiastic, if confusing, start.

For years and years Stark County's "big three"—Massillon, Alliance and Canton McKinley—have been dominant factors in the race for the state championship and the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy.

But disaster has struck all three, with the season just an infant.

Massillon second last year, was dumped 8-7 by Fremont Ross last weekend, eighth-rated Alliance was victimized 13-8 by Lima Senior in the first game ever played by the two schools, and McKinley isn't playing at all due to a suspension for tampering with another school's players.

Massillon's loss was its first at home since 1957, and its first opening day defeat since 1946. The Tigers had a big edge in statistics, but a pass interception on the one-yard line late in the game saved the day for the "Little Giants" of Fremont—who now are known as the "Big Giants."

Niles McKinley, which nosed out Massillon for the state title in The Associated Press poll last season, held East Liverpool to one first down and 9 yards rushing in a 32-0 inaugural victory.

Third place Bellevue romped 68-14 over Fostoria; fourth-ranked Cincinnati Roger Bacon was idle; fifth-rated Martins Ferry made it 32 victories in a row (21 straight for Coach Bob Wion) with a come-from-behind 14-12 verdict over Dover; sixth-ranked Hamilton Garfield eased by Fairfield 6-0; Kettering Fairmont, seventh last year, triumphed 24-7 over Marion Harding; ninth-ranked Toledo Maconer was held to a scoreless tie by Toledo St. Francis in a multiteam premiere, and tenth-ranked Middletown, featuring coach of the year Glenn (Tiger) Ellison's unusual "run and shoot" offense, outscored Cincinnati Greenhills 70 to 28.

Stark County, long the Buckeye grid capital, sent seven of its teams against out-of-county opposition last weekend, and four were defeated and one tied.

Warren Harding, tipped as one of the season's better teams, was held to a 6-6 tie by Mansfield's Tygers—and the Panthers will be at home for the next nine games in the state's most unusual schedule. Parma, which held Massillon's 11-game winners of 1961 to a one-point conquest, was tied 20-20 by Sandusky's Blue Streaks.

More than 500 schools are in the free-for-all race for the state crown, and many of them see action for the first time this weekend. The slate for last year's top 10:

Cleveland Cathedral Latin at Niles, Akron South at Massillon, Bellevue at Clyde, Cincinnati Moeller at Roger Bacon, Marietta at Martins Ferry, Cincinnati Hughes at Hamilton Garfield, Springfield South at Kettering Fairmont, Akron Central at Alliance, Toledo Maconer at Toledo Whitmer, and Columbus North at Middletown.

Massillon, which lost a huge "gate" this year as the Canton McKinley classic was erased by the Bulldog suspension, announced it would play its ancient rival twice next session. The last time they met twice in a single campaign was in 1909, but in 1963 they'll clash Oct. 11 at Massillon and Nov. 9 in Canton's Fawcett Stadium.

Grid Ticket Policy Listed

The Circleville High School Athletic Assn. today outlined its policy on football ticket sales.

Student and adult tickets will be sold in advance at all city schools and at the Risch and Galaher Drug Stores on Thursday and Friday until preceding a home game.

Season reserve seat ticket books may be purchased until game time Friday, Sept. 14, at the reserve seat gate adjacent to the south grandstand on Corwin St.

Reserve seats for the Athens game only will be available at the main gate Friday night beginning at 6:30.

Cleveland Out Of Pennant Race

Yank Defeat Ends Indian Contention

CLEVELAND (AP)—It's official now—the Indians aren't going to win the American League pennant this year.

A 5-2 loss to the New York Yankees Wednesday night snapped a four-game winning streak and mathematically eliminated the Tribe from the pennant race. The Indians now are 15 1/2 games behind the pace-setting Yankees with only 14 left to play.

Southpaw Whitey Ford went the distance in winning his 16th game in 23 decisions and got the punch he needed from Mickey Mantle, whose three-run homer in the fifth inning made the difference.

Pete Ramos (8-12), who pitched despite a broken finger on his glove hand, was the loser. He gave up all the Yankee Runs on 12 hits in the eight innings he worked. Barry Latman pitched the ninth.

Ford fanned five batters to help the Tribe set a club strikeout record with a season total of 823. The old mark was 819 by the 1958 Tribe.

The game was the last of the year between the Indians and Yankees. The Tribe won the season's series 11-7.

The Indians, idle today, begin a nine-game road trip against the Minnesota Twins Friday night.

Judy Ambrose Wins at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Judy Ambrose put on a potent stretch speedup and won the featured trot at Lebanon Raceway in 2:09 Wednesday night.

The winner was worth $8.60. Broadway Bud paid $2.80 for place and Mabel Kilroy returned $4 for show.

Indians Elect Daley President

CLEVELAND (AP)—Directors of the Cleveland Indians baseball club have elected William R. Daley president to succeed the late Myron H. (Mike) Wilson, who died Aug. 19. Wilson had served as president for 10 years.

Daley, principal stockholder of the Indians, will continue as chairman of the board, a position he has held since he and his associates acquired control of the club in 1956.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Along with the new shows, the new crop of commercials is beginning to come into view on the home screens. Some trends are already apparent.
Inanimate objects will be doing a lot of talking. There's the petulant, snippy voice of recalcitrant hair refusing to lie flat in a hair spray commercial. There's the gay, merry gurgling of a shampoo lotion as it bubbles through milady's locks.
Charlie, that whistling wolf who spends all his time ogling the girls—and picks them up with such ease because his hair is so beautifully greased—is moving on to fresh conquests.
Whimsy has overcome the creators of detergent ads starring the polysyllabic washer - repairman. Now they've got him all togged out in an Elizabethan costume, conferring with a housewife who somewhat resembles Queen Elizabeth I—and they're admiring clean towels with Olde English monograms.

Calvin the janitor is back contending with irascible ladies with incredibly dirty sinks who are on the verge of nervous breakdowns about what "the girls" will think. There's a newcomer among the cleaner commercials that starts with a comedy sequence ending in disaster—husband dropping mother-in-law's breakfast tray—and then along comes the product to clean up the mess.

There seem to be a lot of new films of the same old baseball stars shaving and drooling over dry cereals and bread. There's apparently not much new except changes of scene in the cigarette commercials—the smokers are still lighting up and demonstrating sheer delight. Floors and walls continue to be filthy before the miracle cleaners and polishers go to work.

Recommended tonight: "The Lively Ones," NBC, 9:30-10 (EDT)—final show, with Vic Damone as host, of a summer variety series which has generally lived up to its name; "Our Next Man in Space," CBS, 10-10:30—Walter Cronkite interviews Navy Cmdr. Walter Schirra Jr. about his forthcoming six-orbit space shot.

The party platform took Democratic state and national administrations to task for what was described as excessive spending that jeopardized economic growth. "We believe the greatest danger of our economy is excessive government spending and the growing federal debt which can only result in the imposition of greater tax burdens on the people today and their children," the platform read.

"We have witnessed the state government, under Democrat control, impose new and burdensome taxes on business and individuals, increase the everybody operating cost of state government without rendering additional public service, present state budgets requiring expenditures far in excess of estimated revenues, resort to trick bookkeeping and juggling of accounts for the purpose of showing a paper balance in public funds, incite political controversy to the detriment of public service and measure its accomplishments by the amount of tax dollars spent.

The platform termed it the duty of state and local governments to provide educational facilities for basic knowledge, vocational and technical training and to assure equitable distribution of costs among taxpayers.

"In the area of higher education," the platform said, "attention must be given to the establishment of community colleges and branches of our state universities which are financed in part with local funds. Existing facilities in our six state universities must be used to their maximum capacity.

"And outstanding graduate program of education must be developed to train specialists."

Turning to other fields, the platform continued:

"Government has the responsibility of providing and maintaining facilities for the treatment of the mentally ill, the rehabilitation of the disabled and the furnishing of assistance to those unfortunate citizens who cannot provide for themselves."

Pegging the state's future to an economy providing more jobs and good wages, the party statement said:

"This can only become a reality under a government whose aims are to provide more opportunity for the individual, to render the maximum public service for each tax dollar spent, to find solutions to public problems within the limits of available tax revenues and to place public service above political expediency."

GOP Wants Tough, Specific Action in Dealing with Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's request for standby authority to muster 150,000 reservists has run into demands by Republican senators for tougher and more specific action.

The Kennedy request has breezed along, carried by a harsh wind from Cuba, and Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana planned to ram it through the Senate today after a quick debate.

But a flurry of GOP amendments, calling for strong action against Cuba or against any other Communist moves, has been tossed in the works and may brake the measure's momentum.

Faced with new proposals, Mansfield sidetracked temporarily the call-up bill. Instead of putting it at the top of the agenda, he scheduled in its place the $500-million mass transportation bill.

Evidently he hoped to use the time to work out a procedure for jettisoning the amendments for now, possibly by sending them to the Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees for later consideration.

Mansfield said he still expects the Senate to approve the stand-by authority before quitting time tonight.

The measure would permit President Kennedy to call up 150,000 members of the ready reserves without a declaration of a national emergency. Under present law, the President can mobilize up to 1 million members of the ready reserve if he declares an emergency.

Administration sources said the request for the authority was prompted by the international situation without singling out specific areas.

But indications were that the President was more concerned with the Berlin situation than with the Communist flow of supplies and men to Cuba.

But it has been Cuba—and Soviet threats over the Communist outpost—that has attracted most of the fire in Congress.

Wednesday Secretary of State

Dean Rusk assured a joint session of the House Foreign Affairs and Armed Services committees the administration would not tolerate having Cuba become a base for offensive action against the United States or any Western Hemisphere area.

On the House side today, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was scheduled to testify for the reserve measure before the Armed Services Committee. This group recently criticized the Pentagon's handling of the call-up during last year's Berlin crisis.

On another front, a State Department spokesman said the United States is investigating a claim by an anti-Castro organization that it was responsible for a machinegun attack on three vessels in Cuban waters.

The organization calls itself Alpha 66 and says its headquarters are in Puerto Rico, a U.S. territory.

Major Crime Increases 14 Pct. in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Major crime increased 14.25 per cent in Cincinnati during the first eight months of this year as compared with a corresponding period in 1961, it was reported today by Martin P. Geygan of the police records department.

Geygan said the number of rape cases increased 17.5 per cent; robbery 37 per cent; burglary 17.8 per cent; larceny 5 per cent and auto thefts 16.1 per cent.

There were 25 murders in the first eight months, exactly the same as last year.

Polio Strikes Two

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 6-year-old boy and a 5-year-old girl have become Columbus' first polio case of 1962. The City Health Department reported the boy was stricken Sept. 4 and the girl, partially paralyzed, Aug. 14. Both had taken Salk vaccine, but it was not determined if they had the full series.

Washington C.H. Woman Home Again

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—John Stern and six Stern-youngsters have mom back after nearly two weeks of worry.

Stern, who said his wife, Maxine, 41, had been nervous and upset before disappearing Aug. 30, found her working as head waitress in a Newport, Ky., restaurant and brought her home this week.

Mrs. Stern, her husband said, was afraid to return home once she had left. But she came back after he located her through a report from someone who had seen her picture and a story of her disappearance in a Cincinnati newspaper.

Workers Ask Pay Hike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four unions representing about 4,000 city workers have asked for a 15 cent hourly pay raise and a 35 hour work week. Spokesmen for city police asked previously for a five per cent pay increase, and firefighters requested a $21.50 weekly pay hike plus shrinkage of the work week from 54 down to 40 hours.

Ohio Air Guard Gets First of Newest Jets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The first of 16 F100C Super Sabre jet fighter-bombers has been delivered to the Ohio Air National Guard.

The Air Guard's 166th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus is receiving the newer jets to replace F84F Thunderstreak fighter-bombers left overseas. The squadron recently returned from Air Force duty in France and left its F84Fs for a successor unit there.

The dragonfly's cellophane-thin, transparent wings are braced with a network of veins.
